Meeting Will be Held Here Tonight

THE TOWNSHIP IS DIVIDED

Chairman for Each Quarter is Appointed and Scheme of Cooperation Will be Worked Out

The movement in Rush county for bigger and better crops is progressing rapidly and the farmers are becoming more fully acquainted with what is expected of them during the war with Germany. A fine meeting was held in Raleigh last night, the Washington township people agreeing to do their "bit" for their country.

A meeting will be held tonight in the court house assembly room for the people of Rushville who are interested in gardening. E. L. Whit-sitt, Purdue crop expert, will address the meeting and will point out some interesting facts about city gardening in an effort to get the city people to help increase the food supply. Some interesting information on the small home garden is promised. The meeting is backed by the merchants association, which organization is anxious to see every available space in the city placed under cultivation this spring and summer.

A patriotic meeting will be held in Milroy tomorrow and Mr. Whit-sitt will take advantage of the opportunity and address the farmers there, urging them to test their seed corn and showing other interesting things towards increasing their crops.

The Washington township meeting last night in Raleigh took hold of the ideas advanced by the speakers and in the end the township was organized into four districts, the plan which has been followed in other townships, and the movement towards an increased production of foodstuffs was started in earnest.
Frank Martin was named as the township chairman, succeeding Edson Aiken, who resigned because he did not have the necessary time to devote to the cause.

Judge Sparks addressed the meeting, pointing out the importance of the farmer to the army. He declared that since the United States was in the war it was up to this country to help the allies and by helping the United States, the farmer would in turn be helping the allies in their fight to down German militarism.

A. L. Gary explained the increased crop movement. The farmer would in turn be helping the allies in their fight to down German militarism.

The Town Market

The modern successor to the old Town Market are the advertising columns of the daily newspaper.

They are as much an improvement on the old system as the news columns are an advance over the Town-Crier.

Wise people nowadays consult the advertising in their newspaper before they purchase. It saves time and money.

It is economy and convenience in the best sense of the word.

Advertising has become a fixed factor in the science of domestic economy.

THIRTEEN NEEDED TO FILL THE RANKS

Twenty-Six Who Agreed to Join Company Fail to Report—Not Believed to be "Slackers."

TO FINISH WORK TOMORROW

With thirteen men lacking to complete the personnel of sixty-five necessary for the forming of a company, work of organizing the National guard company here was knocked off today when Lieut. Bruner was called from the city. A total of fifty-two men have been examined and sworn into service. Between twenty-five and twenty-six men have thus far failed to report for the examination and it is believed the necessary thirteen will be secured from this list.

Lieut. Bruner will return to the city tomorrow to complete the examinations and the men who signed up for the company are urged to be ready tomorrow and must appear not later than seven o'clock tomorrow night.

John Kiplinger says he does not believe these 26 men are "slackers" and has no doubt as to the final formation of the company.

FACTORY CAMPAIGN TO CLOSE TOMORROW

Intimated Today That Board of
Agents Will Have Something
Definite to Announce Saturday

MORE STOCK IS BEING SOLD

The wind-up of the campaign for stock subscriptions to the Modern Appliance company of Chicago, which will be located here, was started this morning following several meetings yesterday of the board of agents, which will be the board of directors when the new concern is incorporated in Indiana.
It was intimated today that something definite could be announced tomorrow in regard to the site and definite plans for the removal of the factory here. Several sites are under consideration, but it is believed that the board of agents is about to close the deal for one of them which is most favored.

The arrival of President Erling
Falk, Secretary J. Vincent Murray and Superintendent W. C. Holatz yesterday stirred things up a bit and an extra effort was extended, with the result that more than a thousand dollars worth of stock was subscribed yesterday.

CONSCRIPTION BILL TO BE SHOVED AHEAD

Alarmed Over Possibility of Opposition Blocking Other Legislation, Leaders Change

WAR LOAN APPROVED TODAY

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 20.—Alarmed over the possibility that opposition to the administration's spy bill might block other war legislation, caused senate leaders suddenly to change their plans today and announce that consideration of President Wilson's selective conscription army plan bill will be shoved ahead of all other pending legislation.

With minor changes suggested by Secretary McAdoo, the amendments to the $7,000,000,000 bond issue bill were agreed upon by the senate and house conference committee today. The bill will go to the house Monday.

ANALYZES THE CAUSE OF WAR

Prof. W. E. Jenkins of I. U. Says it is Natural Result of Persecution Heaped on Small Nations

THE MINE, FUSE AND MATCH

Killing of Archduke in 1914 Ignites
Fuse Which Explodes Mine,
German World Policy

The present world war is the natural result of the persecutions and indignities that have been heaped upon the weak and unprotected small nations of Europe for centuries by some of the larger powers, according to the analysis of the situation offered by Professor William E. Jenkins of Indiana university in a lecture last night at the court house assembly room under the auspices of the Shakespeare club.

He touched only briefly on the part of the United States in the war and occasionally referred to America's poor state of unpreparedness.

"The United States went to war with England in 1812 to fight for the freedom of the seas," he said near the conclusion of his address. "We went to war this time for the same reason. I am sure I would have sold my claim to nationality of the United States 'if we had not gone to war because there was nothing else for us to do and be a self-respecting people.'"

Dr. Jenkins divided his lecture into three parts: the mine, the fuse and the match. The mine, he said, was the world policy of the German empire; the fuse, the persecution of the small nations of Europe, notably the continued massacres by the Turks; the match, the bomb which was cast at the archduke of Austria, Franz Ferdinand, and his wife.

"Nothing could exceed the thoroughness with which the Germans have prepared this world policy," said Dr. Jenkins. "I don't know whether they had any designs on other planets. I do not doubt but they would have a policy for Mars if communication were possible.
They believe they dominate all

GRAND JURY WILL INVESTIGATE FIRE

Inquiry Made Certain When Prosecutor Rucker of Indianapolis
Announces His Plan

BUILDING CODE IS VIOLATED

Proved Explosion Causing Blaze
in Which Six Lost Life Was Due to Picture Films

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 20.—
Grand jury investigation of the Colfax building fire, in which six persons lost their lives, was made certain this afternoon when Prosecutor Rucker announced that he would place before the grand jury all the evidence he was able to obtain.

Coroner Poole said that the fire indicated the city building code had been violated. It has been proved to the satisfaction of the officers that the explosion was caused by motion picture films stored in barrels in the basement.

Six are dead and three injured in the fire, which started in the office and apartment structure at 320 North Meridian street early last night. The loss was about $50,000.
Two explosions were heard.

The dead are: Dr. Martha E. Keller, a physician.

Mrs. Rose Griffin, age 50 a widow.

Miss Leona Griffin, age 18 daughter of Rose Griffin.

Robert Griffin, age 14, son of Rose Griffin.

Harry Rowland, age 18, employe of Cole Motor Car company.

Mrs. Ella Vinson, age 46, insurance agent.

The injured include: Mrs. Sadie Osborn, mother of Harry Rowland, nervous shock sustained; Herbert Gardner, driver for fire company
No. 8, cut by glass; W. O. Alcon, fireman with engine company No.
8, caught on fire escape and struck by falling brick.

Victims of the fire were caught entirely unaware and most of them died where they were at the time the explosion occurred. One man evidently had tried to reach the front door and fell, overcome by smoke

SIX YOUNG MEN HERE ENTER MARINE CORPS

Every One of Half Dozen Taken to Indianapolis by Postmaster
Hunt Pass Test

FOUR GONE INTO TRAINING

Six Rushville and Rush county young men have enlisted in the marine corps this week and have been accepted. The men enlisted with Postmaster Hunt and he accompanied them to Indianapolis for the examination. The men are Fred (Hop) Spacey, Roy Culbertson, Carmon McKinney, William Trobough, Thomas Saunders and Clarence Myers.

This record is considered remarkable as the marine corps is one of the hardest branches of the service to pass. The first four named were taken to Indianapolis Wednesday by Postmaster Hunt. At three-thirty o'clock in the afternoon all had been accepted and were sent to Louisville, Ky., from where they were to go to Port Royal, S. C.

The last two young men elisted yesterday. They will leave here Monday for the South Carolina training station. The recruiting officers at the marine corps headquarters complimented Mr. Hunt and declared that his recruits were all above the average, both mentally and physically.

QUARTERS WILL BE OPENED TOMORROW

Red Cross Will Open First Campaign
for Funds When Balloons Will be Sold on Streets

EVERYONE IS ASKED TO JOIN

Persons who do not wish to carry home a balloon with them had better stay off the streets Saturday because Red Cross workers will be in evidence selling them, in the first effort made here to raise funds for the Rushville chapter of the American Red Cross which is being formed.

The vacant room back of Pitman and Wilson's drug store was being put in shape this afternoon and will be opened tomorrow as the headquarters of the Red Cross.

A campaign has been opened to enlist the support of every man and woman in Rushville. Everyone will be asked to become a member. There are no obligations attached to joining. The dues are one dollar a year.

SHOWS WHY C. H. & D. ROAD WAS WRECKED

Report of Interstate Commerce Commission Blames Officers for Breach of Trust.

TRANSACTIONS ARE SCORED

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 20.—Breach of trust by officers "often for personal gain," and a readiness of big interests to seek "tools and dummies" for the promoters, were adjudged responsible for the wrecking of the Pere Marquette and the Cincinnati Hamilton and Dayton railroads, in a report of the interstate commerce commission today to the house committee on interstate commerce.

In scoring interests for the transactions resulting in the failure of these two roads, the report said,
"only a court with criminal jurisdiction could adequately deal with them."

ASKS POWER TO REGULATE PRODUCTION

Department of Agriculture Seeks Authority to Supervise Manufactories Using Food Products.

BREWERIES ARE INCLUDED

Secretary Houston Hints at Regulation to Point of Prohibiting Manufacture of Liquor.

CABINET TAKES UP TOPIC

Recommendations Probably Will be Turned Over to Congress Some Time Next Week.

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 20.—The department of agriculture today asked authority of congress, which, if granted, will practically place the country's entire food production under strict government supervision.
In addition to a nation-wide investigation the department asks authority "to license and supervise operation of plants, mills, breweries, distilleries and all other establishments in which food or agricultural implements are prepared, manufactured or sold."

Discussing food conservation, Secretary Houston hinted at the advisability of possible regulation to point of prohibiting the manufacture of liquor, saying:

"Some European nations have secured an addition to the food supply by reducing production of all liquors. It has been estimated that the value of food material entering into the manufacture of alcohol as a beverage in one year in this country is $145,000,000."

The power asked included authority to make regulations governing the use and operation of food, including the taking over and operation of them "with even such force as may be necessary in the public interest."

The authority requested is said to be more drastic than any taken by European nations, excepting Germany. In case of extreme emergency the government would have power to purchase, store and dispose of food products and to fix a maximum or minimum price.

Whether war prohibition will be an emergency measure of the present session of congress will be determined shortly. President Wilson and his cabinet this afternoon planned to take up the recommendations of the agriculture department regarding food conservation and distribution.

As prohibition is closely connected with the food problem, it will undoubtedly be taken up at this time.
The agriculture department's recommendations will probably be turned over to congress next week and at that time the administration's attitude on war prohibition may be made known.

It is probable that congress will be authorized to take any action deemed necessary on handling food during the crisis—and this would include power to shut off grain from distilleries and breweries.

RUN DOWN BY AUTOMOBILE

Thomas Sullivan, Son of Mrs. Frank Sullivan, Severely Hurt

Thomas Sullivan, son of Mrs. Frank Sullivan, was severely injured late yesterday afternoon when struck by an automobile driven by George Fleener. The accident occurred on the Perkins street hill. The little boy in company with some companions was playing in the street while enroute home from school and failed to see the auto until it was almost upon him. He was dragged a distance of several feet, sustaining cuts and bruises about the head and face. He was resting easy today and no ill effects are expected.

THREE WILL BE GRADUATED

Raleigh Commencement Exercises Will be Held Tonight

The commencement exercises of the Raleigh high school will be held tonight in the town hall there. This year's class is composed of three members—two boys and one girl. They are Miss Ida Ivins, Melvin Cole and Emory Beam. The address will be delivered by the Rev. G. F. Powers of Falmouth. Waggoner's orchestra of this city will furnish the music.

Amusements

A good sized crowd saw "Julius Caesar" at the Graham Annex auditorium this afternoon. The six-reel feature film will be shown again tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Parts of the picture were run through this morning when it was received and it is reported to be exceptionally good. It is being brought here by the schools.

The Gem offers the first episode of "The Mystery of the Double Cross" tonight featuring Mollie King, the youngest motion picture actress who ever played the lead in an important serial. She says the high cost of serial is more important to her than the high cost of living. Her extensive wardrobe for this picture includes sixty-five gowns and suits; forty-three hats and thirty-one pair of shoes. She is supported by Leon Bary.

"Tennessee's Pardner" is the title of the feature drama at the Princess tonight. Fannie Ward and Charles Clarey are featured. It is the story of how a road agent attempts to win the love of a beautiful young girl in order to get her fortune. The picture is full of beautiful scenes. In addition to this a reel of Burton Holmes travel picture will be shown. Tomorrow Charles Murry will be seen in the comedy "A Bath-House Blunder."

The Lyric offers the five act feature "The Overcoats" for the program tonight. It is a sociological drama and is said to contain many big scenes. Tomorrow Vivian Rich and Alfred Vosburgh will be seen in the drama "The Little Troubadour."

Dollars.

Next to rubber the dollar is the most elastic thing we have; with the possible exception of a busybody's tongue.

Some folks can stretch a dollar a lot further than others. Personally, we can't seem to make a dollar go very far. But our wife can. Law, yes. We've seen her make one go all the way down town and back on a shopping tour.

But there really is no necessity for us to go into detail about the dollar. It's a pretty well known subject. We all know that it lives in banks and likes home life so well it has to be pried loose with a crowbar.

PROFESSOR ANALYZES THE CAUSES OF THE WAR

other races. They are taught that from childhood. They have contempt for all other races. "Militarism is another factor. Militarism does not mean alone a regular army—although a regular army always goes with militarism—but the relation of the army to the rest of the people. The army man always takes precedence over all others in social life. This causes the strongest and best men to go into the army because of the opportunities it offers."

Dr. Jenkins paused, in passing to comment that Germany is now menaced by socialism, not as Americans use the word socialism, but by people who believe in a representative form of government such as that of the United States. He said there were five-million so-called socialist votes in Germany, but that only one million believed as American socialists. The remainder, he said, were persons believing in a democratic form of government.

The lecturer declared that the doctrine of absolute war, such as Germany has, directs the potentialities of a nation towards war. Germany has forced the same thing on England and France, he said, and is forcing it on the United States.

Dr. Jenkins outlined other doctrines of Germany which had tended toward war. He referred to the doctrine of frightfulness—to do things that will make your name a horror. He also mentioned the doctrine of penetration under which the Germans sent business agents all over the world; the doctrine of trade expansion which was carried out by making products the people want and pushing their sale in all countries.

The doctrine of colonization was not successful, Dr. Jenkins declared, because the natives could not understand German methods. Germans are taught that authority is vested in the government, he said.

"They have signs on the grass which say 'Keep Off,' he continued. They grow the grass not because they think it is beautiful but to give an opportunity to put up the sign and show the authority of the government."

Dr. Jenkins said the extension of the merchant marine was another of the German doctrines and offered the point of collision with England because the British have to be supreme at sea to maintain themselves, not being able to produce enough to support their own people.

In describing what he termed the fuse leading to the mine which was set off by the match (the killing of Archduke Franz Ferdinand), the lecturer briefly passed through the history of the "unspeakable Turk"—the way he had massacred.

He referred to the fact that the Turk was the real militarist of the world; that what time he was not killing somebody he was collecting taxes. Dr. Jenkins said the Turks were allowed to go on with their massacres with an occasional slap on the wrist, so to speak, by the world powers, each of whom was afraid to give the Turk his just due for fear of the consequences. He recalled the time when Germany announced itself as the protector of the Turk, dreaming of a vast empire.

Dr. Jenkins described Venizelos, the Greek, as the greatest statesman of his time. He recalled how Venizelos, who lived in the Island of Crete, a subject of the Turkish empire, became so aroused at the persecution of his people, who were native Greeks, that he started a train of events by arranging a combination of the Balkan Alliance which rushed the Turk and whipped him. When victorious, the Balkan states fell to fighting among themselves, the lecturer said, and the powers stepped in and prevented Serbia from gaining an outlet to the sea, the thing she had been fighting for. He recalled how Austria-Hungary had annexed Bosnia and the Herzegovina, inhabited by Serbs, and that this, combined with refusal of an outlet for Serbia, combined to create much anti-Austrian agitation in Serbia.

This led up to the match, the killing of the archduke and his wife on June 28, 1914, Dr. Jenkins said. He then recited clearly the memorable events which came in quick succession—the 48-hour ultimatum of Austria-Hungary to Serbia, submission to which would have made

Serbia a vassal state, but still have guaranteed her territorial integrity. He recalled how Russia had always essayed the role of protector of small nations and how she could not allow the enforcement of the ultimatum by Austria and "save her face." Germany, she said, insisted that the quarrel be localized and that Russia keep out. When Russia could not keep out, there was nothing for Germany to do but stand by her allies. He also showed how France and England were of necessity drawn in.

"But why should all of this cause the war?" he asked. "It doesn't. The mine—the world policy of the German empire—is responsible."

That reflect the freshness and prettiness of the season's trends.

These illustrations represent scores and scores of other waists to be found in our stock, variety to suit every little whim of fancy of individual taste, and yet all alike in up-to-dateness. All alike, too, in excellence of material and careful expertness of making.

The Woman Who is Thinking of Purchasing a New Coat or Suit Should Hesitate
No Longer

So wide is the variety, and so decided the change in lines of the new Spring Suits that every well-dressed woman should have a new one this season. Young girls will like the recently arrived offerings, and where is there a woman who will not be interested in these new and durable garments?

An interesting feature about our Ready-to-Wear Department is that with the prices going up, we are still able to offer strictly new 1917 serviceable garments at the old low prices.

Just as the women of Rushville and Rush County may rely upon this store to satisfy their style appetite, so, too, they may be always sure of procuring the best merchandise at the most advantageous prices.

SEPARATE PEACE PROPOSAL IS DEAD

This is Indicated by Denial by Berlin of Any Part in German Socialists Efforts

WIRELESS TELLS THE STORY

(By United Press.)
London, April 20.—A German wireless dispatch declares that no German socialist had been sent to Stockholm by Chancellor Von Bethmann-Holweg, and insists there were no negotiations there between German and Russian socialists on a separate peace.

The fact that Germany suddenly denies any part in the German socialists efforts of peace with Russia leads to the belief that the separate peace proposal has completely collapsed.

ARMISTICE REPORTED

(By United Press.)
Buenos Aires, April 20.—A message received by the Spanish legation at Rio De Janeiro declares that Russia and Germany have signed an armistice, according to dispatches from the Brazilian capital this afternoon.

The funeral services of Mrs. William Taylor will be conducted Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence and burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

WATCH YOUR STOMACH

IF FOOD SOURS, BOWELS CLOG, STOMACH HURTS, HEAD ACES, BREATH BAD, HEART PALPITATES, TAKE PEPSINCO. YOU NEED IT. IT WILL HELP YOU.

Thousands upon thousands of persons are taking Pepsinco and are having perfect health. Many of them suffered with indigestion, sick headache, sour stomach, dyspepsia, palpitation and other stomach disorders. They are all well today. They took Pepsinco because it helped others; because it is highly recommended.

So many ordinary ills are closely allied to stomach faults that it is safe to apply the definition of indigestion to practically every internal complaint. If you have trouble with your food—if gas follows eating, if belching distresses you, if flatulency produces heart palpitation or heartburn—then Pepsinco is the preparation for you to take, for it offers the relief decidedly the quickest and best.

You try it out. Take a dose of Pepsinco. You'll find we are right. You'll feel better after the first dose. It's prompt action will bring you around to normal health quickly and safely.

Pepsinco will tone up the stomach nerves; it will brace you up and make you feel like a new person. It will permit you to eat and enjoy what you eat. No distress follows a meal if you take Pepsinco. Ask your druggist today for a small package of Pepsinco and your stomach worries will be over. It is inexpensive. It is a friend worth while. Don't delay. Get it now—today—and prevent a chronic condition that is bound to follow neglect of the stomach. We will send a sample if you will mail your name and address. Schools and Community Life.

Probably no other agency of man's creating has such far-reaching power for good in the community as good, live, up-to-date schools.

The time is long past in this country when "just any old school" will serve the purpose.

In no age of the world was business competition ever so keen and relentless as at the present, and never before was it so imperative that our young brains be trained and developed to their full capacity.

Nothing is truer today than that a community is known by the quality of its schools, for it is a fact that the school is a perfect barometer for the community. As the community, so the school; and conversely, as the school, so the community.

But aside from the mere educational consideration, a progressive school in a community exerts its influence in other directions frequently very little regarded by the community generally. In the first place, a real, live, progressive school is never found in a dead community. As well expect mushrooms from a barren soil as to expect educational perfection where none is expected or demanded.

So, then, the really progressive school presupposes a like spirit in the community.

Men of observation and intelligence have this fact in mind when seeking a location for a home.

Probably the two first questions asked by nine out of every ten home seekers are: "What of your schools?" and "What of your churches?"

The really desirable citizen, with a family of sons and daughters to rear, is always suspicious of the

Kidney Disorder

(BY DR. L. C. BABCOCK)

"The most simple methods are usually the most effective ones when treating any disorder of the human system." The mere drinking a cup of hot water each morning, plenty of pure water all day, and a little Anuric before every meal has been found the most effective means of overcoming kidney trouble. Death would occur if the kidneys did not work day and night in separating poisons and uric acid from the blood.

The danger signals are backache, depression, pains, heaviness, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, chilliness, rheumatic twinges, swollen joints or gout. Since it is such a simple matter to step into a drug store and obtain Anuric (double strength), anyone who earnestly desires to regain health and new life will waste no time in beginning this treatment.

INDIANA WOMEN, TAKE THIS ADVICE!

Laporte, Ind.—"When approaching middle life I suffered severely. I had never before suffered with any sort of woman's weakness and I was very much afraid that the critical time would go hard with me, but one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription completely removed my pains and the change came on so easily that I was scarcely conscious of it. It is fifteen years since I took 'Favorite Prescription' and I am just as strong and well as can be and have never had the least sign of weakness since. I think it the most wonderful medicine for women and would advise its use by all women at the critical time of life."—Mrs. S. J. BAKER, 916 Scott St.
All druggists. Liquid or tablets.

town without good school facilities. He is aware of the fact that the mere absence of these facilities argues a lack of interest on the part of the community at large, and rightly refuses to cast his lot with them.

So that, from a material point of view, the higher we build our schools, the stronger their drawing power in the material things of life.

We have said that the school is the barometer for the community. It is pre-eminently so from a standpoint of morals.

The old adage, "As the father, so the son," is fast losing its force in this day. Instead, we are tending to coin a counter adage, "As the son, so the father." So that, as we build up our schools year by year to a higher and higher state of efficiency, they in turn are building up the individual members of the community, gradually trimming off crudeness and coarseness, elevating the character and generally remodeling and revitalizing the entire body politic.

Then what of the schools of this community? Are they our first consideration? They should be.

What other interest in life have you, that can for a moment compare with the welfare of your children?

And what other influence in the child's life is there to compare with that of his school?

Get this fact firmly fixed in your brain and heart: As your school, so will your child be. The child will be a faithful product of the school that moulds his character.

Are we afraid to invest a few hundred dollars, or a few thousand in modern school facilities?

No community ever yet made the investment, that it was not returned many fold. Viewed from a purely financial standpoint, it is the safest investment we can possibly make.

There is absolutely no excuse for a poor school in any community of self-supporting men and women.

The community that refuses to give of its best to its schools, will find itself as the years go by gradually losing in the race of life.

And the people who deem no sacrifice too great to be made for their children's welfare will year by year climb higher.

Flax and Linen From Japan.

On the island of Hokkaido, Japan, it is estimated that there are 850,000 acres of land suitable for the cultivation of flax of good quality, the land producing about a long ton of stalks, or about 280 pounds of fiber to the acre. The present production on the limited area under cultivation is 10,000,000 pounds of fiber, of which 7,000,000 pounds are retained in Japan for the manufacture of linen goods, an industry which, like all other textile industries, is making large headway here. There are 20 factories on Hokkaido and two companies control the production and manufacture of flax in Japan, a form of monopoly that would not be tolerated in this country. In 1913 there were 18,597 acres of this land under cultivation; in 1916, over 39,000 acres. It is planned to utilize the whole acreage as soon as it can be developed. If we desire to establish flax production and linen manufacture in the United States after the war, the progress of the industry in Japan, where the wage scale is from one-tenth to one-fifteenth our own, will give us something to think about.

Trade of the United States with Japan practically doubled in 1916. A compilation by the Foreign Trade Department of the National City Bank of New York shows an increase of 138 per cent in the exports to Japan in the calendar year 1916, and an increase of 73 per cent in the imports from that country. The total value of the trade of the United States and Japan in 1916 was $291,000,000 against $154,000,000 in 1913, the former high record year.

The Washington, Ind., Herald, which opposed prohibition and woman's suffrage, insists on venting its spleen on the organization of women which made limited franchise possible in Indiana for women. On one occasion lately the Herald spoke in very uncomplimentary tones of Mrs. Stinson of Terre Haute, a very capable and cultured woman. The world admires a food loser, but the Herald is anything but that.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action. If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts if your Back Hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

A Few Timely Hints for Home Gardner to Follow

Department of Agriculture Horticulturists Outline Principles for Making a Success of the Home Vegetable Patch.

XIX. Cultivation of the Home Garden.

The importance of thorough and continuous cultivation in the home vegetable garden is pointed out in a new Farmers' Bulletin of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, No. 818, "The Small Vegetable Garden." After the seeds have sprouted or after the plants have been set in their permanent location continued cultivation becomes necessary.

The gardener should never permit the surface of the soil to become baked or even to form an appreciable crust. Constant stirring with hand tools or a wheel cultivator should be practiced between the rows and about the plants. Such a stirring permits the air to penetrate the soil, where it facilitates chemical action and bacterial activity, destroys weeds which otherwise would utilize large amounts of plant food, and, finally, conserves the moisture supply. The rake is perhaps the gardener's most valuable tool in cultivating. This can be passed backward and forward over the ground until it is in an open, mellow condition. Where vegetables grow closely in the rows it often will be necessary to supplement the cultivation by hand weeding. Small implements are made for this purpose, and may be purchased cheaply. It is well also in some cases to pull up weeds by hand, especially where they grow closely about the stalks of the garden plants. Just as the gardener should be careful in early spring not to dig the ground when the soil is too moist, so he should be careful later in the season not to cultivate too soon after rains. The stirring of very muddy soil "puddles" it into a compact, cement-like mass in which the plant food is securely locked. The garden will require attention, however, as soon as the excess moisture from a rain has soaked in or partially evaporated. Unless the ground is stirred at this time a crust will form almost inevitably. Such a crust, besides restricting the plants, prevents the access of air, and also facilitates the loss of moisture through evaporation.

When, during prolonged dry spells, the plants give evidence of suffering because of the lack of moisture, water must, if possible, be supplied artificially. Where a supply of piped water is at hand, perhaps the most usual methods of irrigation is by sprinkling with a hose. If sprinkling is practiced it should be done late in the afternoon. It is not sufficient merely to dampen the surface; a thorough wetting should be given. A more satisfactory and more economical method of irrigation, however, is to open small furrows between the rows of growing plants and to supply water in these ditches from a hose or pipe. Several hours after the water has soaked in, the dry earth should be drawn back into place.

mers as a rule did not understand just what was expected but as soon as it was explained all were willing to take a hand. E. L. Whitsitt showed the importance of testing the seed corn and urged the farmers to raise a maximum crop this year.

It was decided that a community garden would be planted and as soon as the idea was suggested offers were immediately tendered by various men to break the ground, furnish the seeds and help the movement along. An additional four acres of ground will soon be secured for the Raleigh school, as a playground, and it is planned to put this land under cultivation as a community garden. The school children, under the direction of Mrs. C. L. Smullen, will tend to the garden and the products will be offered on the market and thus increase the food supply and help out a shortage.

Mrs. Smullen has decided to call the garden "Uncle Sam's Garden" and the whole community, particularly the school children will have something to do concerning it. From the interest displayed last night the project is bound to be a success. This plan has been recommended to other communities and idle school yards may be put in cultivation in other parts of Rush county.

The township was divided into four sections and a chairman named for each quarter. The chairman will keep watch on conditions, farm labor and other things and in turn

REINHEIMER WINS FORECLOSURE SUIT

Given Judgment in Circuit Court Against George and Lou Havens for Street Improvement

ACCOUNT SUIT TO SHELBY

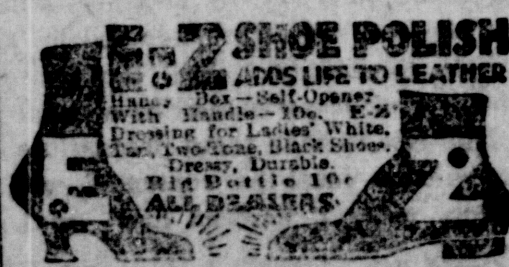

Judge Sparks this morning heard the case of Walter C. Reinheimer against George Havens and Lou Havens, to foreclose a street assessment and found for the plaintiff, giving him a judgment for $420.66 and ordered the lien foreclosed. The defendants defaulted. The defendants failed to pay for a street improvement, alleging that the property was not worth the assessment.

The case of the Star Taxi Company of Dubuque, Iowa, against John M. Carr, on an account demanding $675, was sent to the Shelby circuit court when the court granted the change of venue. Ten days were given in which to perfect the change.

The entire community will co-operate. Plans will also be worked out towards further co-operation by the farmers helping the man who is behind in his work. This plan was followed many years ago, but has been dropped here of late.

The township organization is composed of T. J. Martin, chairman of the northwest quarter; Robert Sharp, chairman of the northeast quarter; Fred W. Lightfoot, chairman of the southeast quarter and Linnea Hays, chairman of the southwest quarter.

Mr. Whitsitt and C. M. George were working on a schedule today for crop meetings next week in the townships that failed to hold the meetings last Wednesday night. The entire county will have been covered when these meetings are completed.

SUPT. J. H. SCHOLL IS NEW VICE-PRESIDENT

Elected at Meeting Central Indiana Superintendents Association at Shelbyville

NO STAND ON GERMAN TOPIC

Superintendent J. H. Scholl of the Rushville public schools was elected vice-president of the Central Indiana Superintendents association, at its ninth annual meeting in Shelbyville yesterday. E. C. Jerman was elected president and Greensburg, the home of Mr. Jerman, was selected for the next annual meeting. O. M. Pittenger of Frankfort was elected secretary.

The superintendents took no stand on the question of whether the teaching of German should be abolished in the high schools. Several superintendents were questioned regarding the sentiment that was apparent against the language. It was discovered that the anti-German feeling in the schools of the association was due largely to German teachers who had lived in Germany and who taught that their methods were the best and the only ones worth while. The opinion was expressed that after the war the disturbance, which was greatly exaggerated now, would pass away.

The superintendents were entertained at lunch by the domestic science class of the high school and in the evening at dinner by the Shelbyville Chamber of Commerce.

C. M. YOCUM TO MAKE PRINCIPAL ADDRESS

Rushville Minister Will Speak at Carthage Flag-Raising and Patriotic Meeting

TO BE ON PUBLIC SQUARE

The Rev. C. M. Yocum will make the address at the flag-raising and patriotic meeting at Carthage Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A flag pole is being erected in the center of the public square where the ceremony will take place. The Commercial club arranged for the meeting and has also purchased a flag. The veterans of the civil war living in and near Carthage will raise the Stars and Stripes to the breeze. Carthage is expecting a large crowd.

The program will consist of patriotic music by the Arlington band; song, "America," by the audience; flag raising by Civil War veterans; address by Rev. C. M. Yocum, of Rushville; song, "The Star Spangled Banner," by the audience; patriotic airs.

STUDENTS PROGRAM

Another of the student programs was given at the high school assembly hour this morning. Paul Spivey gave Robert Emmet's defense speech and Dwight VanDol played a selection on the steel guitar. Duane Reed gave a reading by Bret Hart.

Work for Your Own Pocketbook

After all, a properly lined pocketbook is a very good friend to have.

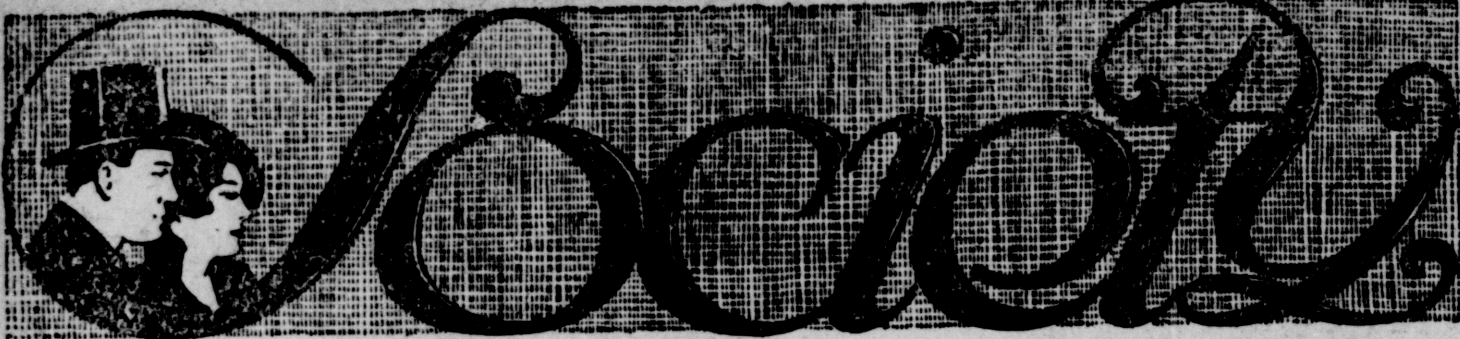

What you can save counts as well as what you make.

Thrift is spending to advantage—and spending to advantage means spending with knowledge.

The wise man keeps posted on the market—and the best guide to that is the day-to-day advertising in a live newspaper like the Daily Republican.

Don't buy "haphazard." Read the advertising and compare the various offerings—then choose to your best advantage.

You are working for your own pocketbook when you follow this program.

Over one hundred couples attended the Phi Delta Kappa dance in Connersville last night. Sherman's four-piece orchestra of this city provided the music. The Phi Deltas observed open house and a short program was given preceding the dance.

An unusually pleasant meeting of the P. A. C. club was held at the home of Miss Gertrude Dickey, of near Falmouth, yesterday afternoon. Eight members were in attendance to enjoy the social afternoon over fancy work. Splendid refreshments were served by the hostess.

The members of the Helva Club surprised Mrs. Will O. Feudner last evening by coming in just at dinner time and bringing the meal along, the occasion being Mrs. Feudner's birthday. The Club brought table flowers with them (and took them away with them again). The evening was spent in round-table talk and music.

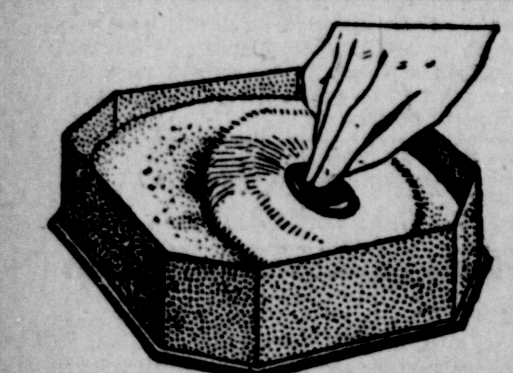

Mrs. M. J. Reynolds entertained sixteen members of her Embroidery club and one guest, Mrs. Homer Nash, yesterday afternoon at her home in Raleigh. Pink and white sweet peas were used in profusion to decorate the rooms, and a color scheme of pink and white was used in the splendid two course luncheon, which was served.

The Home Economics club invites all the women of the county to the meeting tomorrow afternoon in the assembly room of the court house. After the talk by the visiting nurse, Miss Anne Straight, on the topic, "Home Nursing," the meeting will be open to discussion and any questions may be asked so that the question may be understood thoroughly.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gartin and Dr. and Mrs. Verl Bebout were delightfully entertained at an all day affair, yesterday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. V. Logan in North Perkins street. A color scheme of pink and white predominated in the different rooms and a large bunch of the same colored carnations were used to adorn the center of the table.

The regular Thursday evening dance was given in the hall at Glenwood last evening. Those from this city in attendance were the Misses Sylvia Lakin, Alberta McAllister, Alta Enos, Lydia and Emoline Wolter, and William Brauning, Donald Moore, Martin Carroll, Harry Hackman, William Moore, Mr. and Mrs. John Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Will Havens.

The members of the Yomo club had a delightful meeting with Mrs. Russell Barringer, yesterday afternoon, at her home in North Perkins street. During the afternoon one new member, Mrs. Howard Ewbank, was added to their number. At the close of the pleasant afternoon splendid refreshments, in which a color scheme of blue and white predominated, were served by the hostess.

The members of the D. A. R. had their regular meeting yesterday afternoon with Miss Alice Norris, at her home in North Harrison street. Mrs. A. L. Gary read a paper on the Cherokee Indian, and a series of Indian songs were sung by Miss Charlotte Norris, accompanied by the ukulele. Mrs. Sarah Giffin's interesting paper on "Indiana Indians" was read. Potted hyacinths added their beauty and fragrance to the rooms, in which the guests enjoyed the social afternoon. Splendid refreshments were served by the hostess.

Miss Pearl M. Settle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Settle of Indianapolis, and Guy Marion Rhodes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rhodes, residing north of Carthage, were united in marriage at eight o'clock Tuesday evening at the St. Mark's Lutheran Church parsonage in Indianapolis, the Rev. Mr. Sifferd, pastor, officiating.

The bride is a graduate of the Manual high school, and later a teacher in the city schools.

The bridegroom is known here and for the past eight months has been a resident of Indianapolis. The young couple will make their

COLORS IN KERCHIEFS

The shops are full of pretty handkerchiefs, many of them novel. The day when only pure white handkerchiefs were considered "ladylike" is far past, or else we no longer have any desire to be considered ladylike, ourselves. At all events, handkerchiefs all or partly colored are in perfectly good taste and they are presented in the shops in abundance.

The colored crepe de chine handkerchief is very pretty. It is, of course, carried in a color to match or harmonize with the frock with which it is used. This sort of handkerchief is never very large. It can be washed and ironed, if reasonable care be exercised to keep the color from running, quite as satisfactorily as one of white linen.

Voile handkerchiefs are another novelty. They come in all the pretty shades of mustard, rose, pink, yellow, green, tan, gray and blue that are still to be found, in spite of the troubled dye situation.

There are several sorts of handkerchiefs that cleverly conceal a powder puff. One is a white linen handkerchief with a double corner—about on eighth of the entire handkerchief. Into this little double section or packet a small round, flat powder puff can be slipped. There is a circular opening through which some of the puff is exposed, and the face can be powdered readily and inconspicuously. The puff is removed, of course, when the handkerchief is washed.

Some of the new handkerchiefs show three or four very narrow tucks around the edge, in the form of a border.

The home of Mrs. William LaFarra, in West Fourth street, proved to be a delightful gathering place for a number of her friends, yesterday, when they brought their baskets and enjoyed a pitch-in dinner, the occasion being Mrs. LaFarra's birthday. A color scheme of red and white were used effectively, in the decorations. A large bowl of carnations graced the center of the table. The hostess was presented with many useful presents, among which were a jardiner and various pieces of cut glass. The guests enjoying the affair were Mrs. Frank Kealey, Mrs. George Fleener, Mrs. Charles Pettis, Mrs. Daisy Black, Mrs. Justin Amos, Mrs. Ed Bowen, Mrs. Dess Bowen, Mrs. Thomas Craig, Mrs. Emma Keating, Mrs. Bert Madden and Mrs. John Sumpster.

GRAND JURY TO PROBE INDIANAPOLIS FIRE

when almost at the entrance. The Rowland youth was sitting on a trunk in his mother's apartment and his body was found there by the firemen. The lad's feet were wedged so tightly against a door that it was necessary to break the glass in the door and take his body out through the aperture.

Dr. Martha Keller's body was found in her office which was connected with her apartments at the rear of the first floor of the building. Of all the victims of the disaster, Dr. Keller was the only one of wide acquaintance in Indianapolis. She had been a practicing physician here for years.

The speed with which the fire ate its way to almost every part of the big structure was amazing. It seemed that after the explosion the flames leaped out everywhere. The fire was the fiercest, however, in the back part of the structure which is a three-story addition, built several years ago. It consists of a half basement, second and third stories, the top story being Colfax hall, where many lodges hold their meetings and celebrations. The explosion was in the rear of the basement of this part of the building.

C. E. Kinney, who lives with his family in the central part of the first floor, said that he noticed two separate explosions. His family was at the evening meal when the first occurred. All the family felt the shock which was followed almost immediately by another and more severe.

And He Took Things So Easy

Floorcoverings-Draperies

To those contemplating refurbishing their home with rugs, carpets, window shades, new draperies, linoleum or lace curtains, a visit to this store should prove valuable. We are in the midst of a very busy season and the sooner you make your selection, the sooner shall we be enabled to deliver them.

Anything in rugs from a rag rug to the very best quality of Royal Ka Shan Wilton in sizes ranging from 18 by 27 inches to 12 by 15 feet. Our patterns are beautiful and you may choose from a splendid assortment. We are showing a large selection of inlaid linoleums and printed linoleums from 8/4 to 16/4. Our floorcoverings were bought early and are far under-priced.

You may choose any color in Window Shades in several qualities from the paper shades to the Victor duplex oil shade. Our reputation in regard to 3/4 carpet has extended far and wide. An expert man is at your disposal to make and lay this season's carpet. We guarantee satisfactory workmanship.

Curtains and Curtain Materials

Fabrics that will help give the home the brightness and cheeriness of the new season. Our line of draperies respond at once to the demand for uncommon effects—they emphasize the fact that dignity and refinement in decoration are not so much a matter of affluence, as of good taste. The materials range from the filmiest voiles in the most delicately colored tints to the weightier fabrics—weightier in weave, as well as in design and in coloring.

You may choose from Madras, Sunfast, Chintz, Fancy Tickings, Cretonnes, Repp, Nets, Marquises, Scrims and Tapestry.

Curtains and Draperies are a necessity in every home. Get the most pleasing effects from them by using the Kirsch Flat Rod. The Kirsch Flat Rod makes it decidedly easy for anyone to secure charming window decorations—the kind that convey the impression of having been executed by an expert.

Don't miss the opportunity to look through these departments.

HOOSIER PESTS

BY R. E. SNODGRASS.
(Written for United Press.)

All the swatters who swat can never swat all of the flies. Something more drastic must be done if we are to get rid of these troublesome and dangerous pests.

The great majority of flies are produced in horse manure. Enough will breed in a small pile of manure along the roadside to keep a score of swatters busy. Every stable breeds millions of flies all summer. But the pests are not generated by manure. Flies come from small, white maggots and the maggots come from eggs laid there by flies.

Therefore the only effective remedy against flies is to protect manure from them or to treat it with something that will kill maggots. All stable manure should be put at once into screen covered bins while the edges of uncovered piles, which is the part on which the maggots live, should be sprinkled with a solution of powdered hellebore. A half pound in ten gallons of water will be enough for eight bushels of manure. Hellebore will not injure manure for fertilizing purposes.

Cesspools should be treated with the powdered borax which is more deadly to fly maggots than hellebore, but is injurious to plant growth if used in manure. Flies not only breed in cess pools but they collect disease germs there which they will later carry into the dining room. For this reason cesspools should be made fly proof.

Flies travel long distance, however and such anti-fly measures will be effective only when adopted by a whole community. Until the entire public can be persuaded or compelled by law to take these precautions, individuals must be contented with traps, poisons, screens and swatters.

Educational, agitation, legislation and prosecution—these are the steps to fly prevention.

Home Cookery

Baked Beans and Tomatoes.
Soak a pint of beans overnight. In the morning parboil and place them into a two quart bean pot. Add to them a level tablespoonful of salt, two of molasses, a teaspoonful of black pepper and a quart of hot water. Place the pot in a cool oven and bake slowly. As the water boils away or is absorbed by the beans fill the pot with tomatoes (canned or fresh may be used; if fresh, peel and cut into pieces). Long and slow baking is required, and one quart of tomatoes should be used. If more moisture is required after this quantity has been used add hot water. Let them cook at least ten hours; twelve is better.

Rice Muffins.
Mash two cupfuls of boiled rice through a sieve, add the well beaten yolks of three eggs, a tablespoonful of soft butter, a scant teaspoonful of salt, three cupfuls of milk and two cupfuls of yellow cornmeal, teaspoonful of baking powder and lastly the stiffly whipped whites of the eggs. Pour into buttered muffin rings or gem pans and bake in a quick oven for about fifteen minutes.

Rice and Chopped Beef.
Chop a cupful of cold cooked beef, not too fine. Upon the fire place a cupful of milk and when hot add the chopped beef, a cupful cold boiled rice, two tablespoonfuls of butter and season highly with salt and pepper. Stir the mixture till very hot, then remove from the fire and add an egg, well beaten. Turn the hash into a baking dish and bake twenty minutes. Allow to brown well and serve in the baking dish.

Fruit Tapioca.
Cook one cupful of tapioca in one quart of water until it is soft. Stir frequently. It should be the consistency of soft custard. Sweeten with one cupful of sugar. Place in a dessert dish one spoonful of preserved peaches or any other kind of fruit. Put the tapioca preparation around the fruit and serve with plain or whipped cream.

Quickly Made Cake Filling.
When in need of a cake filling and there is little time, take the white of an egg, beat to a froth, add one-half cupful of sugar and a cupful of crushed strawberries, raspberries or jam; continue beating until like thick cream.

WEST POINTERS ARE GRADUATED

One Hundred Thirty-Nine Cadets Receive Diplomas and Become Officers

USUAL DATE WAS ADVANCED

All Will be Commissioned as First Lieutenants—New York Man Leads Class

(By United Press.)

West Point, N. Y., April 20.—One hundred thirty-nine cadets graduated from the United States Military Academy today and took their places as lieutenants in the new army being formed to fight Germany.

They are the members of the class of 1917 which expected to be graduated in June next with all the pleasant features incident to a West Point "June week" ceremony. Instead the men marched to their auditorium, under the stern influence of discipline and the grim business-like, war-game atmosphere which prevades the school since hostilities with the Germans broke out.

These hundred and thirty nine are the survival of the fittest—those who have been able to stand up under the constant grind of West Point severity—and they are only a part of the class that entered four years ago next June to fill up nearly two hundred vacancies then existing in the Corps of Cadets. The rest of the lads have passed out, some forced out by examinations which were too much for them and others through resignations, voluntarily, when it was apparent they were unable to keep up with the pace.

The class of '17 is a representative West Point class drilled to the minute and ready to do its part in the big business now at hand.

The honor man of the class undoubtedly will be Cadet Harris Jones. Jones entered West Point from the new 33rd Congressional district of New York on June 14, 1913. His home is at Clayville, Oneida County. He is twenty-four years old. Jones leads his class by a good margin, in fact has been out in front pretty much all of the time since coming here from Harvard University where he spent two years.

Jones is a cadet-lieutenant in the battalion organization. Jones wears a gold star on his coat collar indicating his high class standing and is carried on the list of distinguished cadets in the regular Army Register, published by the government. He will have a chance to select any branch of the service he desires for appointment at graduation and will undoubtedly make the engineer branch his choice.

In athletics the class of '17 has been prominently identified. Such football men as big McEwan, all-American center; Butler, tackle; Meacham, guard; Redfield, end; Ford and Gerhardt, backs, will be missed when the Army gets back on the gridiron in the fall. Teale, holder of the hundred yard dash record graduates with this class. Cole, basketball captain and Gerhardt baseball captain will also be commissioned.

L. H. Salvosa is a Philippine cadet who will graduate with this class. Each year a new Filipino comes to West Point. Salvosa is the fourth "little brown man" to graduate from the military academy in as many years. He excels in Spanish in which subject he came out No. 2 in the recent exams. He stood No. 98 in the class roll in January last.

MANY POSITIONS TAKEN BY WOMEN

Are Already Taking Place of Men in Different Industries Throughout State.

REPORT OF STATISTICIAN

Employment Offices Have Demands For Farm Labor—One Railroad Throws Down Bars.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 20.—

Women are already taking the place of men to a considerable extent in different industries throughout the state, according to reports available in the office of Henry A. Roberts, state statistician, who has charge of the state employment agency.

A large increase in the number of women placed in positions in Indiana is especially noticeable during the latter part of March and early part of April. Complete figures for the month will not be available for sometime but the quarterly report, made public today and including the months of January, February and March, shows nearly 350 women placed during those three months. This is an increase of nearly 50 per cent over the similar period for last year.

The largest number of women were given positions by the South Bend office—202. Ft. Wayne was next with 188; Evansville, 44; Indianapolis, 39 and Terre Haute 21. During that time, 2,315 men were also placed.

Since the "more food" movement has gained such great headway in the state, the employment offices have been kept busy hunting for farm laborers. There is a great demand for men in farm work now and it shows no immediate signs of being filled.

On account of the scarcity of men workers, many companies which have not hired women heretofore in certain positions, have thrown open these departments for women workers. The Baltimore and Ohio railroad, which formerly employed men only in its clerical department, has issued orders that women may be hired for this work.

EBBETS FAVORS LATER OPENING

Believes Baseball Would Stand Better Chance by Starting Two Weeks Later.

EAST HIT HART THIS SPRING

Says Ideal Weather Has Been Coming Late in Season and Should Take Advantage of it.

BY H. C. HAMILTON.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, April 20.—When blizzards and blustery weather began to take knots in eastern baseball this spring, Charles H. Ebbets, Jr., who helps run things for the Brooklyn National league club, expressed himself as favoring later opening for the major leagues.

Every year or so there is some talk of setting the dates back, but when a good spring comes along and shovels in the dollars the talk of setting the dates back, but when a setting dates back, talk usually is quickly dropped. Spring in this section this year, however, was so backward that the talk promises to take definite form. It is no fun for a baseball magnate to get a team in condition and then come north to the chilly blasts of unfavorable weather. It has been some time since a really favorable day appeared for the opening games.

"Nearly every year of late we have been getting wonderfully good baseball weather at the close of a season," said Ebbets, "and this is against unfavorable days in the spring. It would make no difference if we opened two weeks later and closed a bit later in the fall. Schedules would work just the same. It has been customary in late years to have the best baseball weather of a season along toward its close. I believe we should take advantage of it.

"Of course, there are some springs when conditions are ideal for baseball. But they are uncertain. Autumn weather recently has been consistent. I believe it's best to take what we are sure of."

John K. Tener, president of the National league, however, holds a different view. He does not believe advancing the opening would have any effect on the season. "Bad weather," he declared, "is just as likely to show up late in May as in the middle of April, and a glance at our records will show this. However, I can't see that it would hurt us any to make the change, and, if our magnates want it, it's up to us to make the switch."

Soup.
Soup is one of the less effective foods. It is very filling. But it does not take hold like corned-beef-and-cabbage.

Like our music, our drama our opinions and our incompetents, soup is canned. They have built great palaces of delusion for it. There they coax it into the mixing wats, decoy it to gigantic caldrons and get it all stirred up with the idea that it's going to be eaten. Then they blight its hopes by pouring it into dark, gloomy cans and it sits on a shelf days, weeks, months, maybe years, till somebody calls for it.

No wonder soup gets despondent. We bought some the other day that was—horrible.

ARBOR DAY WAS OBSERVED

Proclamation of Governor Goodrich is Followed.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 20.—Arbor day was observed throughout the state today in accordance with the proclamation issued by Gov. Goodrich. Frank N. Wallace, state entomologist, today urged the planting of nut trees especially so that "In coming years we may have shade, profit and beauty from what is now a waste strip of ground."

"In this year of food shortage, this would be a valuable addition to our food supply and every school should have this matter up for consideration," said Mr. Wallace.

"If our roads would have been lined with nut trees twenty to thirty years ago Indiana could harvest more nuts each year than the citizens could consume."

ASSESSORS WILL REPORT

Township Officials Will Meet With County Assessor Tomorrow

The township assessors will meet again tomorrow with County Assessor Schrader. They will submit reports for the first half of April. The actual work of assessing is drawing to a close, many of the assessors having about completed the work. However, each will require about two weeks to work on the books in order to get them in shape for the closing time. The assessing must be completed and the books turned over by May 15. The work has progressed rapidly in this county this year.

STATE CONTEST HELD.

Bloomington, Ind., April 20.—High school orators of Indiana gathered at Bloomington today for the fifth annual state high school oratorical contest held under the auspices of Indiana university. The subject for discussion at the meeting will be "Should the United States adopt a system of compulsory military service similar in essentials to the Swiss system?" The orators who participated in today's event are winners in the various sectional meetings held throughout the state last month.

LANGUAGE TEACHERS MEET.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 20.—Modern language teachers of the west and south opened their annual convention at the German house here today with the address of welcome by Prof. A. G. Canfield of the University of Michigan. The meeting will continue two days. The modern language teachers of Indiana colleges and of the Indianapolis public schools will entertain the visitors.

J. G. Hovis Praises Tanlac as Great Sleep Restorer—He Feels Better.

Mishawaka, Ind., April 19.—J. G. Hovis, a retired railroad employee, who lives with his daughter at 210 East Marion street, this city, is telling all his friends of the great benefit he derived from the use of Tanlac. For twenty-six years Hovis was a section foreman and out in all kinds of weather. He says this about Tanlac.

"I was bothered with stomach trouble and rheumatism in my arms and limbs. My food never digested properly. The rheumatism made my arms and limbs ached constantly. At night I couldn't sleep and would roll and toss in bed.

"In the newspapers I read a statement from another railroad man whose case was similar to mine and then I concluded I would try Tanlac. The rheumatic pains have disappeared completely. I enjoy my meals now and can eat almost anything I desire. I sleep soundly and restfully throughout the night now.

"Tanlac certainly has benefited me and I want to recommend it to everyone."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, rheumatism, catarrhal complaint, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, nervousness and the like.

Tanlac is now being introduced and explained in Rushville at F. E. Wolcott's Drug Store; In Arlington at Mrs. L. T. Davis's; In Carthage at J. H. McCarthy; In Milroy at Barton & Sheppard's.—(Adv.)

This Car Revises All Standards Of Motor Car Value

THE purchase of an automobile is the purchase of certain elements of physical satisfaction and mental enjoyment, least of which is by no means pride of ownership. The measure in which your car gratifies your desire for these enjoyments, as compared with other cars, establishes its value in your eyes.

In the new Oldsmobile, Model 45, you are enabled to secure the fullest measure of physical satisfaction, as determined by smooth, effortless performance, and of pride of possession, as warranted by superior coachwork and utmost refinement of finish,—at a cost that establishes this car as a new standard of motor car value.

The car is built in four body styles at the following prices,—$1367 for the seven-passenger, and $1295 for the five-passenger, club roadster and convertible roadster models, f. o. b. Lansing.

The seven-passenger is now on display at our showroom. Call or write today for a demonstration.

Here's That Reo One-Rod Control

EASE OF OPERATION is one of the cardinal qualities of Reo the Fifth—"The Incomparable Four."

THAT QUALITY, perhaps more than any other, commands this car to women.

BUT THAT SAME quality—ease of operation—is responsible for many other things that only owners of Reo the Fifth cars fully appreciate.

FOR, NO MATTER how expert you may be in handling a car—in clutch control and gear shifting—nevertheless you do miss once in a while, you know.

AND THE DAMAGE to your pride and your nerves is only a small part of the real damage—that which has resulted from the clashing of gear teeth and shock to bearings and other parts will show up later in the repair shop and the maintenance bill.

THAT REO CONTROL—the original "one rod" control; the original "center control"—is the biggest money saver the Reo engineers have ever been able to offer Reo buyers.

THE VERY FACT that instead of two hand levers, there is only one in Reo the Fifth, is important—one hand on the wheel, the other on the control, gives you confidence and vastly simplifies the operation.

BUT THERE'S ANOTHER fact that is not so apparent on the surface; one that all engineers appreciate and most owners; but one the buyer does not always grasp beforehand.

THAT IS THE CO-RELATION of all the parts in that Reo clutch and transmission.

THE REO ENGINEERS have done all your gear shifting for you in designing Reo the Fifth. It is scarcely necessary for you to think—just move the single lever to the position indicated on the index plate and without a sound, the right pair of gears slip in place.

SILENCE MEANS absence of shock to the gears; absence of undue strain to shafts; absence of injury to bearings.

ALL THESE YOU GET in Reo the Fifth, "The Incomparable Four"—known the world over as "the simplest car to control."

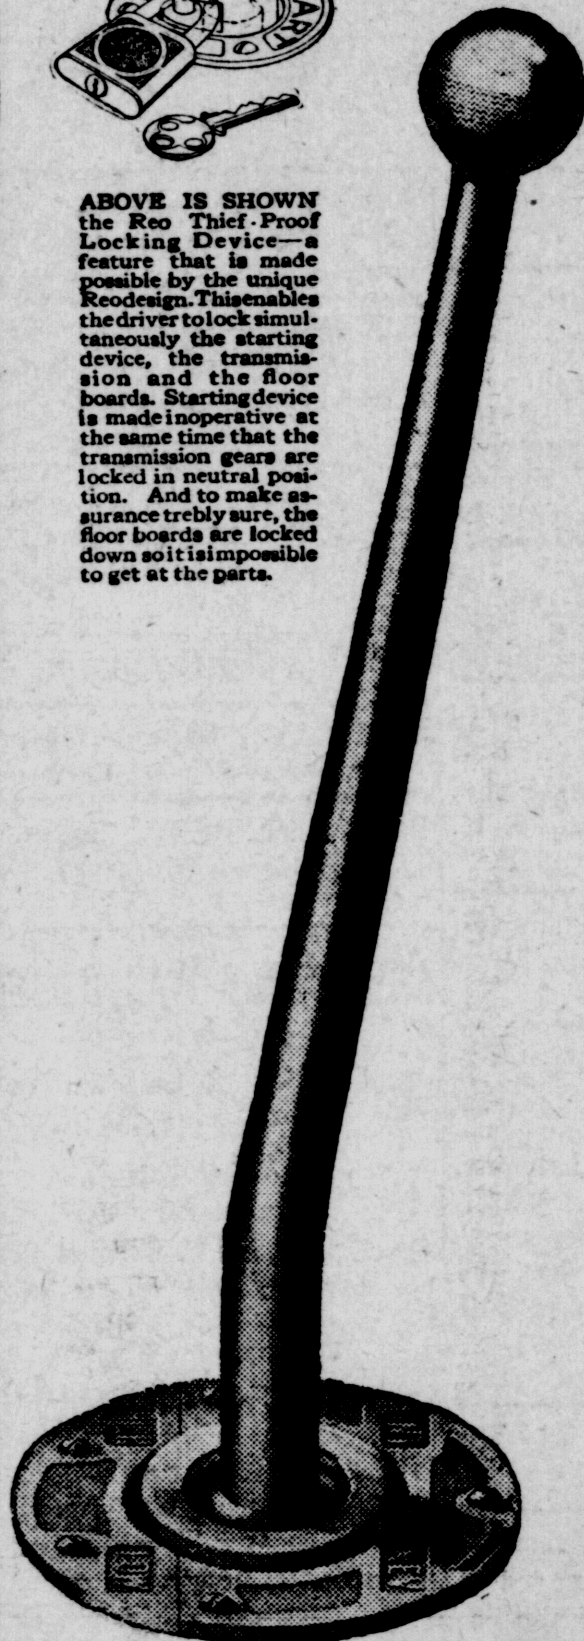

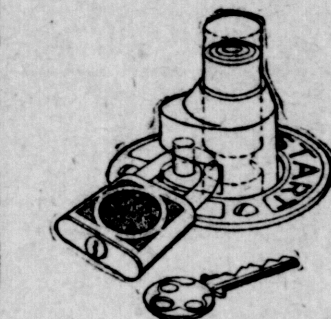

AND AS WE'VE shown, the same engineering that has produced that result that you can see, also produces another that you don't find out till later (unless you talk with an owner of Reo the Fifth), namely, that this is also the cheapest car of its size in the world to operate and maintain.

THE PRICE IS STILL $875 f. o. b. factory, Lansing, Michigan, despite the present higher cost of both labor and materials.

BUT THAT ISN'T to be taken as a promise that the price of this "Incomparable Four" will always remain at $875. It may be absolutely necessary to raise it.

BUT MEANTIME, if your order is in you will get your Reo the Fifth at the present price—and just now we can give you a fairly prompt delivery.

ABOVE IS SHOWN the Reo Thief-Proof Locking Device—a feature that is made possible by the unique Reodesign. This enables the driver to lock simultaneously the starting device, the transmission and the floor boards. Starting device is made inoperative at the same time that the transmission gears are locked in neutral position. And to make assurance trebly sure, the floor boards are locked down so it is impossible to get at the parts.

Renewed Testimony

No one in Rushville who suffers backache, headaches, or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this Rushville man's twice-told story. It is confirmed testimony that no Rushville resident can doubt.

Harrison Levi, 931 North Sexton street, Rushville, says: "I used to have to get up six or seven times each night on account of the too frequent passages of the kidney secretions. Often the passages were scanty and accompanied by pain. I also had severe backaches. Nothing ever did me any good until I got Doan's Kidney Pills, from Johnson's Drug Store. It didn't take them long to fix me up. The pain left and my kidneys became regular in action." (Statement given July 27, 1912.)

THE TOWNSHIP IS DIVIDED

Chairman for Each Quarter Is Appointed and Scheme of Co-Operation Will be Worked Out

The movement in Rush county for bigger and better crops is progressing rapidly and the farmers are becoming more fully acquainted with what is expected of them during the war with Germany. A final meeting was held in Raleigh last night, the Washington township people agreeing to do their "bit" for their country.

A meeting will be held tonight in the court house assembly room for the people of Rushville who are interested in gardening. E. L. Whitsitt, Purdue crop expert, will address the meeting and will point out some interesting facts about city gardening in an effort to get the city people to help increase the food supply. Some interesting information on the small home garden is promised. The meeting is backed by the merchants association, which organization is anxious to see every available space in the city placed under cultivation this spring and summer.

A patriotic meeting will be held in Milroy tomorrow and Mr. Whitsitt will take advantage of the opportunity and address the farmers there, urging them to test their seed corn and showing other interesting things towards increasing their crops.

The Washington township meeting last night in Raleigh took hold of the ideas advanced by the speakers and in the end the township was organized into four districts, the plan which has been followed in other townships, and the movement towards an increased production of foodstuffs was started in earnest. Frank Martin was named as the township chairman, succeeding Edson Aiken, who resigned because he did not have the necessary time to devote to the cause.

Judge Sparks addressed the meeting, pointing out the importance of the farmer to the army. He declared that since the United States was in the war it was up to this country to help the allies and by helping the United States, the farmer would in turn be helping the allies in their fight to down German militarism.

A. L. Gary explained the increased crop movement. The far-

With thirteen men lacking to complete the personnel of sixty-five necessary for the forming of a company, work of organizing the National guard company here was knocked off today when Lieut. Bruner was called from the city. A total of fifty-two men have been examined and sworn into service. Between twenty-five and twenty-six men have thus far failed to re-appear for the examination and it is believed the necessary thirteen will be secured from this list.

Lieut. Bruner will return to the city tomorrow to complete the examinations and the men who signed up for the company are urged to be ready tomorrow and must appear not later than seven o'clock tomorrow night.

John Kiplinger says he does not believe these 26 men are "slackers" and has no doubt as to the final formation of the company.

FACTORY CAMPAIGN TO CLOSE TOMORROW

Intimated Today That Board of
Agents Will Have Something
Definite to Announce Saturday

The wind-up of the campaign for stock subscriptions to the Modern Appliance company of Chicago, which will be located here, was started this morning following several meetings yesterday of the board of agents, which will be the board of directors when the new concern is incorporated in Indiana. It was intimated today that something definite could be announced tomorrow in regard to the site and definite plans for the removal of the factory here. Several sites are under consideration, but it is believed that the board of agents is about to close the deal for one of them which is most favored.

The arrival of President Erling Falk, Secretary J. Vincent Murray and Superintendent W. C. Hollatz yesterday stirred things up a bit and an extra effort was extended, with the result that more than a thousand dollars worth of stock was subscribed yesterday.

WAR LOAN APPROVED TODAY

(By United Press.)
Washington, April 20.—Alarmed over the possibility that opposition to the administration's spy bill might block other war legislation, caused senate leaders suddenly to change their plans today and announce that consideration of President Wilson's selective conscription army plan bill will be shoved ahead of all other pending legislation.

With minor changes suggested by Secretary McAdoo, the amendments to the $7,000,000,000 bond issue bill were agreed upon by the senate and house conference committee today. The bill will go to the house Monday.

ANALYZES THE CAUSE OF WAR

THE MINE, FUSE AND MATCH

Killing of Archduke in 1914 Ignites
Fuse Which Explodes Mine,
German World Policy

The present world war is the natural result of the persecutions and indignities that have been heaped upon the weak and unprotected small nations of Europe for centuries by some of the larger powers, according to the analysis of the situation offered by Professor William E. Jenkins of Indiana university in a lecture last night at the court house assembly room under the auspices of the Shakespeare club.

He touched only briefly on the part of the United States in the war and occasionally referred to America's poor state of unpreparedness.

"The United States went to war with England in 1812 to fight for the freedom of the seas," he said near the conclusion of his address. "We went to war this time for the same reason. I am sure I would have sold my claim to nationality of the United States if we had not gone to war because there was nothing else for us to do and be a self-respecting people."

Dr. Jenkins divided his lecture into three parts: the mine, the fuse and the match. The mine, he said, was the world policy of the German empire; the fuse, the persecution of the small nations of Europe, notably the continued massacres by the Turks; the match, the bomb which was cast at the archduke of Austria, Franz Ferdinand, and his wife.

"Nothing could exceed the thoroughness with which the Germans have prepared this world policy," said Dr. Jenkins. "I don't know whether they had any designs on other planets. I do not doubt but they would have a policy for Mars if communication were possible. They believe they dominate all

GRAND JURY WILL INVESTIGATE FIRE

Inquiry Made Certain When Prosecutor Rucker of Indianapolis
Announces His Plan

BUILDING CODE IS VIOLATED

Proved Exploitation Causing Blaze
in Which Six Lost Life Was Due to Picture Films

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 20.—Grand jury investigation of the Colfax building fire, in which six persons lost their lives, was made certain this afternoon when Prosecutor Rucker announced that he would place before the grand jury all the evidence he was able to obtain.

Coroner Poole said that the fire indicated the city building code had been violated. It has been proved to the satisfaction of the officers that the explosion was caused by motion picture films stored in barrels in the basement.

Six are dead and three injured in the fire, which started in the office and apartment structure at 320 North Meridian street early last night. The loss was about $50,000. Two explosions were heard.

The dead are: Dr. Martha E. Keller, a physician.

Mrs. Rose Griffin, age 50 a widow. Miss Leona Griffin, age 18 daughter of Rose Griffin.

Robert Griffin, age 14, son of Rose Griffin.

Harry Rowland, age 18, employee of Col. Motor Car company.

Mrs. Ella Vinson, age 46, insurance agent.

The injured include: Mrs. Sadie Osborn, mother of Harry Rowland, nervous shock sustained; Herbert Gardner, driver for fire company No. 8, cut by glass; W. O. Alcon, fireman with engine company No. 8, caught on fire escape and struck by falling brick.

Victims of the fire were caught entirely unaware and most of them died where they were at the time the explosion occurred. One man evidently had tried to reach the front door and fell, overcome by smoke.

SIX YOUNG MEN HERE ENTER MARINE CORPS

Every One of Half Dozen Taken to
Indianapolis by Postmaster
Hunt Pass Test

FOUR GONE INTO TRAINING

Six Rushville and Rush county young men have enlisted in the marine corps this week and have been accepted. The men enlisted with Postmaster Hunt and he accompanied them to Indianapolis for the examination. The men are Fred (Hop) Spacey, Roy Culbertson, Carmon McKinney, William Trobough, Thomas Saunders and Clarence Myers.

This record is considered remarkable as the marine corps is one of the hardest branches of the service to pass. The first four named were taken to Indianapolis Wednesday by Postmaster Hunt. At three-thirty o'clock in the afternoon all had been accepted and were sent to Louisville, Ky., from where they were to go to Port Royal, S. C.

The last two young men enlisted yesterday. They will leave here Monday for the South Carolina training station. The recruiting officers at the marine corps headquarters complimented Mr. Hunt and declared that his recruits were all above the average, both mentally and physically.

Red Cross Will Open First Campaign
for Funds When Balloons Will be Sold on Streets

EVERYONE IS ASKED TO JOIN

Persons who do not wish to carry home a balloon with them had better stay off the streets Saturday because Red Cross workers will be in evidence selling them, in the first effort made here to raise funds for the Rushville chapter of the American Red Cross which is being formed.

The vacant room back of Pitman and Wilson's drug store was being put in shape this afternoon and will be opened tomorrow as the headquarters of the Red Cross.

A campaign has been opened to enlist the support of every man and woman in Rushville. Everyone will be asked to become a member. There are no obligations attached to joining. The dues are one dollar a year.

SHOWS WHY C. H. & D. ROAD WAS WRECKED

Report of Interstate Commerce Commission Blames Officers for Breach of Trust.

TRANSACTIONS ARE SCORED

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 20.—Breach of trust by officers "often for personal gain," and a readiness of big interests to seek "tools and dummies" for the promoters, were adjudged responsible for the wrecking of the Pere Marquette and the Cincinnati-Hamilton and Dayton railroads, in a report of the interstate commerce commission today to the house committee on interstate commerce.

In scoring interests for the transactions resulting in the failure of these two roads, the report said, "only a court with criminal jurisdiction could adequately deal with them."

ASKS POWER TO REGULATE PRODUCTION

Secretary Houston Hints at Regulation to Point of Prohibiting Manufacture of Liquor.

CABINET TAKES UP TOPIC

Recommendations Probably Will be Turned Over to Congress Some Time Next Week.

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 20.—The department of agriculture today asked authority of congress, which, if granted, will practically place the country's entire food production under strict government supervision. In addition to a nation-wide investigation the department asks authority "to license and supervise operation of plants, mills, breweries, distilleries and all other establishments in which food or agricultural implements are prepared, manufactured or sold."

Discussing food conservation, Secretary Houston hinted at the advisability of possible regulation to point of prohibiting the manufacture of liquor, saying:

"Some European nations have secured an addition to the food supply by reducing production of all liquors. It has been estimated that the value of food material entering into the manufacture of alcohol as a beverage in one year in this country is $145,000,000."

The power asked included authority to make regulations governing the use and operation of food, including the taking over and operation of them "with even such force as may be necessary in the public interest."

The authority requested is said to be more drastic than any taken by European nations, excepting Germany. In case of extreme emergency the government would have power to purchase, store and dispose of food products and to fix a maximum or minimum price.

Whether war prohibition will be an emergency measure of the present session of congress will be determined shortly. President Wilson and his cabinet this afternoon planned to take up the recommendations of the agriculture department regarding food conservation and distribution.

As prohibition is closely connected with the food problem, it will undoubtedly be taken up at this time. The agriculture department's recommendations will probably be turned over to congress next week and at that time the administration's attitude on war prohibition may be made known.

It is probable that congress will be authorized to take any action deemed necessary on handling food during the crisis—and this would include power to shut off grain from distilleries and breweries.

The Town Market

The modern successor to the old Town Market are the advertising columns of the daily newspaper.

They are as much an improvement on the old system as the news columns are an advance over the Town-Crier.

Wise people nowadays consult the advertising in their newspaper before they purchase. It saves time and money.

It is economy and convenience in the best sense of the word.

Advertising has become a fixed factor in the science of domestic economy.

RUN DOWN BY AUTOMOBILE

Thomas Sullivan, Son of Mrs. Frank Sullivan, Severely Hurt

Thomas Sullivan, son of Mrs. Frank Sullivan, was severely injured late yesterday afternoon when struck by an automobile driven by George Fleener. The accident occurred on the Perkins street hill. The little boy in company with some companions was playing in the street while enroute home from school and failed to see the auto until it was almost upon him. He was dragged a distance of several feet, sustaining cuts and bruises about the head and face. He was resting easy today and no ill effects are expected.

THREE WILL BE GRADUATED

Raleigh Commencement Exercises Will be Held Tonight

The commencement exercises of the Raleigh high school will be held tonight in the town hall there. This year's class is composed of three members—two boys and one girl. They are Miss Ida Ivins, Melvin Cole and Emory Beam. The address will be delivered by the Rev. G. F. Powers of Falmouth. Waggoner's orchestra of this city will furnish the music.

Amusements

A good sized crowd saw "Julius Caesar" at the Graham Annex auditorium this afternoon. The six-reel feature film will be shown again tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Parts of the picture were run through this morning when it was received and it is reported to be exceptionally good. It is being brought here by the schools.

The Gem offers the first episode of "The Mystery of the Double Cross" tonight featuring Mollie King, the youngest motion picture actress who ever played the lead in an important serial. She says the high cost of serial is more important to her than the high cost of living. Her extensive wardrobe for this picture includes sixty-five gowns and suits; forty-three hats and thirty-one pair of shoes. She is supported by Leon Bary.

"Tennessee's Pardner" is the title of the feature drama at the Princess tonight. Fannie Ward and Charles Clarey are featured. It is the story of how a road agent attempts to win the love of a beautiful young girl in order to get her fortune. The picture is full of beautiful scenes. In addition to this reel of Burton Holmes travel picture will be shown. Tomorrow Charles Murry will be seen in the comedy "A Bath-House Blunder." The Lyric offers the five act feature "The Overcoats" for the program tonight. It is a sociological drama and is said to contain many big scenes. Tomorrow Vivian Rich and Alfred Vosburgh will be seen in the drama "The Little Troubadour."

Dollars.

Next to rubber the dollar is the most elastic thing we have; with the possible exception of a busybody's tongue.

Some folks can stretch a dollar a lot further than others. Personally, we can't seem to make a dollar go very far. But our wife can. Law, yes. We've seen her make one go all the way down town and back on a shopping tour.

But there really is no necessity for us to go into detail about the dollar. It's a pretty well known subject. We all know that it lives in banks and likes home life so well it has to be pried loose with a crowbar.

PROFESSOR ANALYZES

THE CAUSES OF THE WAR

other races. They are taught that from childhood. They have contempt for all other races.

"Militarism is another factor. Militarism does not mean alone a regular army—although a regular army always goes with militarism—but the relation of the army to the rest of the people. The army man always takes precedence over all others in social life. This causes the strongest and best men to go into the army because of the opportunities it offers."

Dr. Jenkins paused, in passing to comment that Germany is now menaced by socialism, not as Americans use the word socialism, but by people who believe in a representative form of government such as that of the United States. He said there were five-million so-called socialist votes in Germany, but that only one million believed as American socialists. The remainder, he said, were persons believing in a democratic form of government.

The lecturer declared that the doctrine of absolute war, such as Germany has, directs the potentialities of a nation towards war. Germany has forced the same thing on England and France, he said, and is forcing it on the United States.

Dr. Jenkins outlined other doctrines of Germany which had tended toward war. He referred to the doctrine of frightfulness—to do things that will make your name a horror. He also mentioned the doctrine of penetration under which the Germans sent business agents all over the world; the doctrine of trade expansion which was carried out by making products the people want and pushing their sale in all countries.

The doctrine of colonization was not successful, Dr. Jenkins declared, because the natives could not understand German methods. Germans are taught that authority is vested in the government, he said.

"They have signs on the grass which say 'Keep Off,' he continued. They grow the grass not because they think it is beautiful but to give an opportunity to put up the sign and show the authority of the government."

Dr. Jenkins said the extension of the merchant marine was another of the German doctrines and offered the point of collision with England because the British have to be supreme at sea to maintain themselves, not being able to produce enough to support their own people.

In describing what he termed the fuse leading to the mine which was set off by the match (the killing of Archduke Franz Ferdinand), the lecturer briefly passed through the history of the "unspeakable Turk"—the way he had massacred.

He referred to the fact that the Turk was the real militarist of the world; that what time he was not killing somebody he was collecting taxes. Dr. Jenkins said the Turks were allowed to go on with their massacres with an occasional slap on the wrist, so to speak, by the world powers, each of whom was afraid to give the Turk his just due for fear of the consequences. He recalled the time when Germany announced itself as the protector of the Turk, dreaming of a vast empire.

Dr. Jenkins described Venezelos, the Greek, as the greatest statesman of his time. He recalled how Venezelos, who lived in the Island of Crete, a subject of the Turkish empire, became so aroused at the persecution of his people, who were native Greeks, that he started a train of events by arranging a combination of the Balkan Alliance which rushed the Turk and whipped him. When victorious, the Balkan states fell to fighting among themselves, the lecturer said, and the powers stepped in and prevented Serbia from gaining an outlet to the sea, the thing she had been fighting for. He recalled how Austria-Hungary had annexed Bosnia and the Herzegovina, inhabited by Serbs, and that this, combined with refusal of an outlet for Serbia, combined to create much anti-Austrian agitation in Serbia.

This led up to the match, the killing of the archduke and his wife on June 28, 1914, Dr. Jenkins said. He then recited clearly the memorable events which came in quick succession—the 48-hour ultimatum of Austria-Hungary to Serbia, submission to which would have made

Serbia a vassal state, but still have guaranteed her territorial integrity. He recalled how Russia had always essayed the role of protector of small nations and how she could not allow the enforcement of the ultimatum by Austria and "save her face." Germany, she said, insisted that the quarrel be localized and that Russia keep out. When Russia could not keep out, there was nothing for Germany to do but stand by her allies. He also showed how France and England were of necessity drawn in.

"But why should all of this cause the war?" he asked. "It doesn't. The mine—the world policy of the German empire—is responsible."

WATCH YOUR STOMACH

IF FOOD SOURS, BOWELS CLOG, STOMACH HURTS, HEAD ACHES, BREATH BAD, HEART PALPITATES, TAKE PEPSINCO. YOU NEED IT. IT WILL HELP YOU.

Thousands upon thousands of persons are taking Pepsinco and are having perfect health. Many of them suffered with indigestion, sick headache, sour stomach, dyspepsia, palpitation and other stomach disorders. They are all well today. They took Pepsinco because it helped others; because it is highly recommended.

So many ordinary ills are closely allied to stomach faults that it is safe to apply the definition of indigestion to practically every internal complaint. If you have trouble with your food—if gas follows eating, if belching distresses you, if flatulency produces heart palpitation or heartburn—then Pepsinco is the preparation for you to take, for it offers the relief decidedly the quickest and best.

You try it out. Take a dose of Pepsinco. You'll find we are right. You'll feel better after the first dose. It's prompt action will bring you around to normal health quickly and safely.

Schools and Community Life.

Probably no other agency of man's creating has such far-reaching power for good in the community as good, live, up-to-date schools.

The time is long past in this country when "just any old school" will serve the purpose.

In no age of the world was business competition ever so keen and relentless as at the present, and never before was it so imperative that our young brains be trained and developed to their full capacity.

Nothing is truer today than that a community is known by the quality of its schools, for it is a fact that the school is a perfect barometer for the community. As the community, so the school; and conversely, as the school, so the community.

But aside from the mere educational consideration, a progressive school in a community exerts its influence in other directions frequently very little regarded by the community generally. In the first place, a real, live, progressive school is never found in a dead community. As well expect mushrooms from a barren soil as to expect educational perfection where none is expected or demanded.

So, then, the really progressive school presupposes a like spirit in the community.

Men of observation and intelligence have this fact in mind when seeking a location for a home.

Probably the two first questions asked by nine out of every ten home-seekers are: "What of your schools?" and "What of your churches?"

The really desirable citizen, with a family of sons and daughters to rear, is always suspicious of the

Kidney Disorder

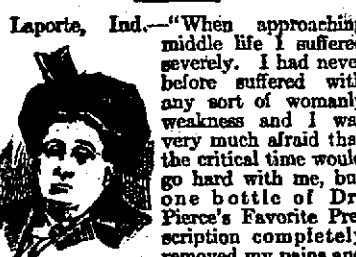

(BY DR. L. C. BARCOCK)

"The most simple methods are usually the most effective ones when treating any disorder of the human system." The mere drinking a cup of hot water each morning, plenty of pure water all day, and a little Anuric before every meal has been found the most effective means of overcoming kidney trouble. Death would occur if the kidneys did not work day and night in separating poisons and uric acid from the blood.

The danger signals are backache, depression, pains, heaviness, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, chilliness, rheumatic twinges, swollen joints or gout.

Since it is such a simple matter to stay in a drug store and obtain Anuric (double strength), anyone who earnestly desires to regain health and new life will waste no time in beginning this treatment.

INDIANA WOMEN, TAKE THIS ADVICE!

Laporte, Ind.—"When approaching middle life I suffer severely. I had never before suffered with any sort of woman's weakness and I was very much afraid that the critical time would go hard with me, but one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription completely removed my pains and the change came on so easily that I was scarcely conscious of it. It is fifteen years since I took 'Favorite Prescription' and I am just as strong and well as can be and have never had the least sign of weakness since. I think it is the most wonderful medicine for women and would advise its use by all women at the critical time of life."—Mrs. E. J. Baker, 916 Scott St.

town without good school facilities. He is aware of the fact that the mere absence of these facilities argues a lack of interest on the part of the community at large, and rightly refuses to cast his lot with them.

So that, from a material point of view, the higher we build our schools, the stronger their drawing power in the material things of life.

We have said that the school is the barometer for the community. It is pre-eminently so from a standpoint of morals.

The old adage, "As the father, so the son," is fast losing its force in this day. Instead, we are tending to coin a counter adage, "As the son, so the father." So that, as we build up our schools year by year to a higher and higher state of efficiency, they in turn are building up the individual members of the community, gradually trimming off crudeness and coarseness, elevating the character and generally remodeling and revitalizing the entire body politic.

Then what of the schools of this community? Are they our first consideration? They should be.

What other interest in life have you, that can for a moment compare with the welfare of your children?

And what other influence in the child's life is there to compare with that of his school?

Get this fact firmly fixed in your brain and heart: As your school, so will your child be. The child will be a faithful product of the school that moulds his character.

Are we afraid to invest a few hundred dollars, or a few thousand in modern school facilities?

No community ever yet made the investment, that it was not returned many fold. Viewed from a purely financial standpoint, it is the safest investment we can possibly make.

There is absolutely no excuse for a poor school in any community of self-supporting men and women.

The community that refuses to give of its best to its schools, will find itself as the years go by gradually losing in the race of life.

And the people who deem no sacrifice too great to be made for their children's welfare will year by year climb higher.

Flax and Linen From Japan.

On the island of Hokkaido, Japan, it is estimated that there are 850,000 acres of land suitable for the cultivation of flax of good quality, the land producing about a long ton of stalks, or about 280 pounds of fiber to the acre. The present production on the limited area under cultivation is 10,000,000 pounds of fiber, of which 7,000,000 pounds are retained in Japan for the manufacture of linen goods, an industry which, like all other textile industries, is making large headway here. There are 20 factories on Hokkaido and two companies control the production and manufacture of flax in Japan, a form of monopoly that would not be tolerated in this country. In 1913 there were 18,597 acres of this land under cultivation; in 1916, over 39,000 acres. It is planned to utilize the whole acreage as soon as it can be developed. If we desire to establish flax production and linen manufacture in the United States after the war, the progress of the industry in Japan, where the wage scale is from one-tenth to one-fifteenth our own, will give us something to think about.

Trade of the United States with Japan practically doubled in 1916. A compilation by the Foreign Trade Department of the National City Bank of New York shows an increase of 138 per cent in the exports to Japan in the calendar year 1916, and an increase of 73 per cent in the imports from that country. The total value of the trade of the United States and Japan in 1916 was $291,000,000 against $154,000,000 in 1913, the former high record year.

The Washington, Ind., Herald, which opposed prohibition and woman's suffrage, insists on venting its spleen on the organization of women which made limited franchise possible in Indiana for women. On one occasion lately the Herald spoke in very uncomplimentary tones of Mrs. Stimson of Terre Haute, a very capable and cultured woman. The world admires a food loser, but the Herald is anything but that.

In this time of stress and excitement we should remember that

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

A Few Timely Hints for Home Gardner to Follow

Department of Agriculture Horticulturists Outline Principles for Making a Success of the Home Vegetable Patch.

XIX. Cultivation of the Home Garden.

The importance of thorough and continuous cultivation in the home vegetable garden is pointed out in a new Farmers' Bulletin of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, No. 818, "The Small Vegetable Garden." After the seeds have sprouted or after the plants have been set in their permanent location continued cultivation becomes necessary.

The gardener should never permit the surface of the soil to become baked or even to form an appreciable crust. Constant stirring with hand tools or a wheel cultivator should be practiced between the rows and about the plants. Such a stirring permits the air to penetrate the soil, where it facilitates chemical action and bacterial activity, destroys weeds which otherwise would utilize large amounts of plant food, and, finally, conserves the moisture supply. The rake is perhaps the gardener's most valuable tool in cultivating. This can be passed backward and forward over the ground until it is in an open, mellow condition. Where vegetables grow closely in the rows it often will be necessary to supplement the cultivation by hand weeding. Small implements are made for this purpose, and may be purchased cheaply. It is well also in some cases to pull up weeds by hand, especially where they grow closely about the stalks of the garden plants.

Just as the gardener should be careful in early spring not to dig the ground when the soil is too moist, so he should be careful later in the season not to cultivate too soon after rains. The stirring of very muddy soil "puddles" it into a compact, cement-like mass in which the plant food is securely locked. The garden will require attention, however, as soon as the excess moisture from a rain has soaked in or partially evaporated. Unless the ground is stirred at this time a crust will form almost inevitably. Such a crust, besides restricting the plants, prevents the access of air, and also facilitates the loss of moisture through evaporation.

When, during prolonged dry spells, the plants give evidence of suffering because of the lack of moisture, water must, if possible, be supplied artificially. Where a supply of piped water is at hand, perhaps the most usual methods of irrigation is by sprinkling with a hose. If sprinkling is practiced it should be done late in the afternoon. It is not sufficient merely to dampen the surface; a thorough wetting should be given. A more satisfactory and more economical method of irrigation, however, is to open small furrows between the rows of growing plants and to supply water in these ditches from a hose or pipe. Several hours after the water has soaked in, the dry earth should be drawn back into place.

mers as a rule did not understand just what was expected but as soon as it was explained all were willing to take a hand. E. L. Whitsitt showed the importance of testing the seed corn and urged the farmers to raise a maximum crop this year.

It was decided that a community garden would be planted and as soon as the idea was suggested others were immediately tendered by various men to break the ground, furnish the seeds and help the movement along. An additional four acres of ground will soon be secured for the Raleigh school, as a playgrounds, and it is planned to put this land under cultivation as a community garden. The school children, under the direction of Mrs. C. L. Smullen, will tend to the garden and the products will be offered on the market and thus increase the food supply and help out a shortage.

Mrs. Smullen has decided to call the garden "Uncle Sam's Garden" and the whole community, particularly the school children will have something to do concerning it. From the interest displayed last night the project is bound to be a success. This plan has been recommended to other communities and idle school yards may be put in cultivation in other parts of Rush county.

The township was divided into four sections and a chairman named for each quarter. The chairman will keep watch on conditions, furnish labor and other things and in turn

Judge Sparks this morning heard the case of Walter C. the entire community will co-operate. Plans will also be worked out towards further co-operation by the farmers helping the man who is behind in his work. This plan was followed many years ago, but has been dropped here of late.

The township organization is composed of T. J. Martin, chairman of the northwest quarter; Robert Sharp, chairman of the northeast quarter; Fred W. Lightfoot, chairman of the southeast quarter and Linnea Hays, chairman of the southwest quarter.

Mr. Whitsitt and C. M. George were working on a schedule today for crop meetings next week in the townships that failed to hold the meetings last Wednesday night. The entire county will have been covered when these meetings are completed.

SUPT. J. H. SCHOLL IS NEW VICE-PRESIDENT

Elected at Meeting Central Indiana Superintendents Association at Shelbyville

NO STAND ON GERMAN TOPIC

Superintendent J. H. Scholl of the Rushville public schools was elected vice-president of the Central Indiana Superintendents association, at its ninth annual meeting in Shelbyville yesterday. E. C. Jerman was elected president and Greensburg, the home of Mr. Jerman, was selected for the next annual meeting. O. M. Pittenger of Frankfort was elected secretary.

The superintendents took no stand on the question of whether the teaching of German should be abolished in the high schools. Several superintendents were questioned regarding the sentiment that was apparent against the language. It was discovered that the anti-German feeling in the schools of the association was due largely to German teachers who had lived in Germany and who taught that their methods were the best and the only ones worth while. The opinion was expressed that after the war the disturbance, which was greatly exaggerated now, would pass away.

The superintendents were entertained at lunch by the domestic science class of the high school and in the evening at dinner by the Shelbyville Chamber of Commerce.

C. M. YOCUM TO MAKE PRINCIPAL ADDRESS

Rushville Minister Will Speak at Carthage Flag-Raising and Patriotic Meeting

TO BE ON PUBLIC SQUARE

The Rev. C. M. Yocum will make the address at the flag-raising and patriotic meeting at Carthage Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A flag pole is being erected in the center of the public square where the ceremony will take place. The Commercial club arranged for the meeting and has also purchased a flag. The veterans of the civil war living in and near Carthage will raise the Stars and Stripes to the breeze. Carthage is expecting a large crowd.

The program will consist of patriotic music by the Arlington band; song, "America," by the audience; flag raising by Civil War veterans; address by Rev. C. M. Yocum, of Rushville; song, "The Star Spangled Banner," by the audience; patriotic airs.

STUDENTS PROGRAM

Another of the student programs was given at the high school assembly hour this morning. Paul Spivey gave Robert Emmet's defense speech and Dwight VanDol played a selection on the steel guitar. Duane Reed gave a reading by Bret Hart.

Over one hundred couples attended the Phi Delta Kappa dance in Connersville last night. Sherman's four-piece orchestra of this city provided the music. The Phi Deltas observed open house and a short program was given preceding the dance.

An unusually pleasant meeting of the P. A. C. club was held at the home of Miss Gertrude Dickey, near Elmhurst, yesterday afternoon. Eight members were in attendance to enjoy the social afternoon over fancy work. Splendid refreshments were served by the hostess.

The members of the Heluva Club surprised Mrs. Will O. Feudner last evening by coming in just at dinner time and bringing the meal along, the occasion being Mrs. Feudner's birthday. The club brought table flowers with them (and took them away with them again). The evening was spent in round-table talk and music.

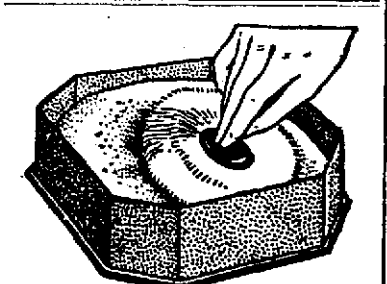

Mrs. M. J. Reynolds entertained sixteen members of her Embroidery club and one guest, Mrs. Homer Nash, yesterday afternoon at her home in Raleigh. Pink and white sweet peas were used in profusion to decorate the rooms, and a color scheme of pink and white was used in the splendid two course luncheon, which was served.

The Home Economics club invites all the women of the county to the meeting tomorrow afternoon in the assembly room of the court house. After the talk by the visiting nurse, Miss Anne Straight, on the topic, "Home Nursing," the meeting will be open to discussion and any questions may be asked so that the question may be understood thoroughly.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gartin and Dr. and Mrs. Veri Behout were delightfully entertained at an all day affair, yesterday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. V. Logan in North Perkins street. A color scheme of pink and white predominated in the different rooms and a large bunch of the same colored carnations were used to adorn the center of the table.

The regular Thursday evening dance was given in the hall at Glenwood last evening. Those from this city in attendance were the Misses Sylvia Lukin, Alberta McAllister, Alta Enos, Lydia and Emeline Wolter, and William Brauning, Donald Moore, Martin Carroll, Harry Hackman, William Moore, Mr. and Mrs. John Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Will Havens.

The members of the Yomo club had a delightful meeting with Mrs. Russell Barringer, yesterday afternoon, at her home in North Perkins street. During the afternoon one new member, Mrs. Howard Ewbank, was added to the number. At the close of the pleasant afternoon splendid refreshments, in which a color scheme of blue and white predominated, were served by the hostess.

The members of the D. A. R. had their regular meeting yesterday afternoon with Miss Alice Norris, at her home in North Harrison street. Mrs. A. L. Mrs. Sarah Guffin's interesting paper on "Indiana Indians" was read. Potted hyacinths added their beauty and fragrance to the rooms, in which the guests enjoyed the social afternoon. Splendid refreshments were served by the hostess.

Miss Pearl M. Settle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Settle of Indianapolis, and Guy Marion Rhodes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rhodes, residing north of Carthage, were united in marriage at eight o'clock Tuesday evening at the St. Mark's Lutheran Church parsonage in Indianapolis, the Rev. Mr. Sifferd, pastor, officiating.

The bride is a graduate of the Manual high school, and later a teacher in the city schools.

The bridegroom is known here and for the past eight months has been a resident of Indianapolis. The young couple will make their

COLORS IN KERCHIEFS

The shops are full of pretty handkerchiefs, many of them novel. The day when only pure white handkerchiefs were considered "ladylike" is far past, or else we no longer have any desire to be considered ladylike, ourselves. At all events, handkerchiefs all or partly colored are in perfectly good taste and they are presented in the shops in abundance.

The colored crepe de chine handkerchief is very pretty. It is, of course, carried in a color to match or harmonize with the frock with which it is used. This sort of handkerchief is never very large. It can be washed and ironed, if reasonable care be exercised to keep the color from running, quite as satisfactorily as one of white linen.

Voile handkerchiefs are another novelty. They come in all the pretty shades of mustard, rose, pink, yellow, green, tan, gray and blue that are still to be found, in spite of the troubled dye situation.

There are several sorts of handkerchiefs that cleverly conceal a powder puff. One is a white linen handkerchief with a double corner—about on eighth of the entire handkerchief. Into this little double section or pocket a small round, flat powder puff can be slipped. There is a circular opening through which some of the puff is exposed, and the face can be powdered readily and inconspicuously. The puff is removed, of course, when the handkerchief is washed.

Some of the new handkerchiefs show three or four very narrow tufts around the edge, in the form of a border.

when almost at the entrance. The Rowland youth was sitting on a trunk in his mother's apartment and his body was found there by the firemen. The lad's feet were wedged so tightly against a door that it was necessary to break the glass in the door and take his body out through the aperture.

Dr. Martha Keller's body was found in her office which was connected with her apartments at the rear of the first floor of the building. Of all the victims of the disaster, Dr. Keller was the only one of wide acquaintance in Indianapolis. She had been a practicing physician here for years.

The speed with which the fire ate its way to almost every part of the big structure was amazing. It seemed that after the explosion the flames leaped out everywhere. The fire was the fiercest, however, in the back part of the structure which is a three-story addition, built several years ago. It consists of a half basement, second and third stories, the top story being Colfax hall, where many lodges hold their meetings and celebrations. The explosion was in the rear of the basement of this part of the building.

C. E. Kinney, who lives with his family in the central part of the first floor, said that he noticed two separate explosions. His family was at the evening meal when the first occurred. All the family felt the shock which was followed almost immediately by another and more severe.

Floorcoverings-Draperies

To those contemplating refurnishing their home with rugs, carpets, window shades, new draperies, linoleum or lace curtains, a visit to this store should prove valuable. We are in the midst of a very busy season and the sooner you make your selection, the sooner shall we be enabled to deliver them.

Anything in rugs from a rag rug to the very best quality of Royal Ka Shan Wilton in sizes ranging from 18 by 27 inches to 12 by 15 feet. Our patterns are beautiful and you may choose from a splendid assortment. We are showing a large selection of inlaid linoleums and printed linoleums from 8/4 to 16/4. Our floorcoverings were bought early and are far under-priced.

You may choose any color in Window Shades in several qualities from the paper shades to the Victor duplex oil shade. Our reputation in regard to 3/4 carpet has extended far and wide. An expert man is at your disposal to make and lay this season's carpet. We guarantee satisfactory workmanship.

Curtains and Curtain Materials

Fabrics that will help give the home the brightness and cheeriness of the new season. Our line of draperies respond at once to the demand for uncommon effects—they emphasize the fact that dignity and refinement in decoration are not so much a matter of affluence, as of good taste. The materials range from the finest voiles in the most delicately colored tints to the weightier fabrics—weightier in weave, as well as in design and in coloring.

You may choose from Madras, Sunfast, Chintz, Fancy Tickings, Cretonnes, Repp, Nets, Marquisettes, Scrims and Tapestry.

Curtains and Draperies are a necessity in every home. Get the most pleasing effects from them by using the Kirsch Flat Rod. The Kirsch Flat Rod makes it decidedly easy for anyone to secure charming window decorations—the kind that convey the impression of having been executed by an expert.

Don't miss the opportunity to look through these departments.

HOOSIER PESTS

BY R. E. SNODGRASS.
(Written for United Press.)

All the swatters who swat can never swat all of the flies. Something more drastic must be done if we are to get rid of these troublesome and dangerous pests.

The great majority of flies are produced in horse manure. Enough will breed in a small pile of manure along the roadside to keep a score of swatters busy. Every stable breeds millions of flies all summer. But the pests are not generated by manure. Flies come from small, white maggots and the maggots come from eggs laid there by flies.

Therefore the only effective remedy against flies is to protect manure from them or to treat it with something that will kill maggots. All stable manure should be put at once into screen covered bins while the edges of uncovered piles, which is the part on which the maggots live, should be sprinkled with a solution of powdered hellebore. A half pound in ten gallons of water will be enough for eight bushels of manure. Hellebore will not injure manure for fertilizing purposes.

Cesspools should be treated with the powdered borax which is more deadly to fly maggots than hellebore, but is injurious to plant growth if used in manure. Flies not only breed in cess pools but they collect disease germs there which they will later carry into the dining room. For this reason cesspools should be made fly proof.

Flies travel long distance, however and such anti-fly measures will be effective only when adopted by a whole community. Until the entire public can be persuaded or compelled by law to take these precautions, individuals must be contented with traps, poisons, screens and swatters.

Educational, agitation, legislation and prosecution—these are the means to fly prevention.

Home Cookery

Baked Beans and Tomatoes.
Soak a pint of beans overnight. In the morning parboil and place them into a two quart bean pot. Add to them a level tablespoonful of salt, two of molasses, a teaspoonful of black pepper and a quart of hot water. Place the pot in a cool oven and bake slowly. As the water boils away or is absorbed by the beans fill the pot with tomatoes (canned or fresh may be used; if fresh peel and cut into pieces). Long and slow baking is required, and one quart of tomatoes should be used. If more moisture is required after this quantity has been used add hot water. Let them cook at least ten hours; twelve is better.

Rice Muffins.
Mash two cupfuls of boiled rice through a sieve, add the well beaten yolks of three eggs, a tablespoonful of soft butter, a scant teaspoonful of salt, three cupfuls of milk and two cupfuls of yellow cornmeal, teaspoonful of baking powder and lastly the stiffly whipped whites of the eggs. Pour into buttered muffin rings or gem pans and bake in a quick oven for about fifteen minutes.

Rice and Chopped Beef.
Chop a cupful of cold cooked beef, not too fine. Upon the fire place a cupful of milk and when hot add the chopped beef, a cupful cold boiled rice, two tablespoonfuls of butter and season highly with salt and pepper. Stir the mixture till very hot, then remove from the fire and add an egg, well beaten. Turn the hash into a baking dish and bake twenty minutes. Allow to brown well and serve in the baking dish.

Fruit Tapioca.
Cook one cupful of tapioca in one quart of water until it is soft. Stir frequently. It should be the consistency of soft custard. Sweeten with one cupful of sugar. Place in a dessert dish one spoonful of preserved peaches or any other kind of fruit. Put the tapioca preparation around the fruit and serve with plain or whipped cream.

Quickly Made Cake Filling.
When in need of a cake filling and there is little time, take the white of an egg, beat to a froth, add one-half cupful of sugar and a cupful of crushed strawberries, raspberries or jam; continue beating until like thick cream.

GERMAN REVOLT IN BRAZIL IS GROWING

Refugees Pouring Into Uruguay Report Fighting Between Rebels and Troops.

FORCES PUT ON FRONTIER

By CHARLES P. STEWART
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Buenor Aires, April 20.—Reports from Uruguay today declared the German revolt in Brazilian provinces near the Uruguay border was growing. Refugees were pouring into Uruguay reporting fighting between the German rebels and government forces in Brazil. Reports indicated a serious condition of affairs in probably three Brazilian states.

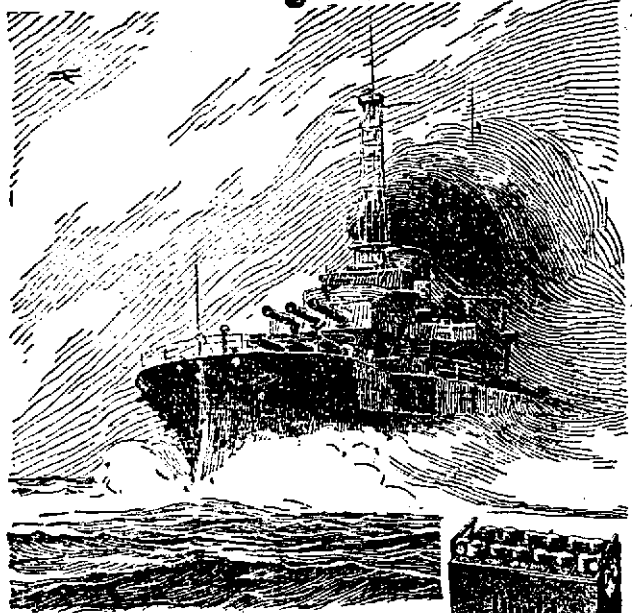

The Uruguayan government dispatched forces to the frontier to prevent violation of neutrality.

Members of Lurline council No. 298 will meet at the home of Mrs. William Denny Saturday afternoon at one-thirty o'clock to attend the funeral of Mrs. William Taylor.

WEST POINTERS ARE GRADUATED

One Hundred Thirty-Nine Cadets Receive Diplomas and Become Officers

USUAL DATE WAS ADVANCED

All Will be Commissioned as First Lieutenants—New York Man Leads Class

(By United Press.)

West Point, N. Y., April 20.—One hundred thirty-nine cadets graduated from the United States Military Academy today and took their places as lieutenants in the new army being formed to fight Germany. They are the members of the class of 1917 which expected to be graduated in June next with all the pleasant features incident to a West Point "June week" ceremony. Instead the men marched to their auditorium, under the stern influence of discipline and the grim business-like, war-game atmosphere which prevades the school since hostilities with the Germans broke out.

These hundred and thirty nine are the survival of the fittest—those who have been able to stand up under the constant grind of West Point severity—and they are only a part of the class that entered four years ago next June to fill up nearly two hundred vacancies then existing in the Corps of Cadets. The rest of the lads have passed out, some forced out by examinations which were too much for them and others through resignations, voluntarily, when it was apparent they were unable to keep 'up with the pace.

The honor man of the class undoubtedly will be Cadet Harris Jones. Jones entered West Point from the new 33rd Congressional district of New York on June 14, 1913. His home is at Clayville, Oneida County. He is twenty-four years old. Jones leads his class by a good margin, in fact has been out in front pretty much all of the time since coming here from Harvard University where he spent two years.

Jones is a cadet-lieutenant in the battalion organization. Jones wears a gold star on his coat collar indicating his high class standing and is carried on the list of distinguished cadets in the regular Army Register, published by the government. He will have a chance to select any branch of the service he desires for appointment at graduation and will undoubtedly make the engineer branch his choice.

In athletics the class of '17 has been prominently identified. Such football men as big McEwan, all-American center; Butler, tackle; Meacham, guard; Redfield, end; Ford and Gerhardt, backs, will be missed when the Army gets back on the gridiron in the fall. Teale, holder of the hundred yard dash record graduates with this class. Cole, basketball captain and Gerhardt baseball captain will also be commissioned.

L. H. Salvosa is a Philippine cadet who will graduate with this class. Each year a new Filipino comes to West Point. Salvosa is the fourth "little brown man" to graduate from the military academy in as many years. He excels in Spanish in which subject he came out No. 2 in the recent exams. He stood No. 98 in the class roll in January last.

MANY POSITIONS TAKEN BY WOMEN

Are Already Taking Place of Men in Different Industries Throughout State.

REPORT OF STATISTICIAN

Employment Offices Have Demands For Farm Labor—One Railroad Throws Down Bars.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 20.—Women are already taking the place of men to a considerable extent in different industries throughout the state, according to reports available in the office of Henry A. Roberts, state statistician, who has charge of the state employment agency.

A large increase in the number of women placed in positions in Indiana is especially noticeable during the latter part of March and early part of April. Complete figures for the month will not be available for sometime but the quarterly report, made public today and including the months of January, February and March, shows nearly 350 women placed during those three months. This is an increase of nearly 50 per cent over the similar period for last year.

The largest number of women were given positions by the South Bend office—202. Ft. Wayne was next with 188; Evansville, 44; Indianapolis, 39 and Terre Haute 21. During that time, 2,315 men were also placed.

Since the "more food" movement has gained such great headway in the state, the employment offices have been kept busy hunting for farm laborers. There is a great demand for men in farm work now and it shows no immediate signs of being filled.

On account of the scarcity of men workers, many companies which have not hired women heretofore in certain positions, have thrown open these departments for women workers. The Baltimore and Ohio railroad, which formerly employed men only in its clerical department, has issued orders that women may be hired for this work.

Believes Baseball Would Stand

EAST HIT HART THIS SPRING

Says Ideal Weather Has Been Coming Late in Season and Should Take Advantage of it.

BY H. C. HAMILTON.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, April 20.—When blizzards and blustery weather began to take knots in eastern baseball this spring, Charles H. Ebbets, Jr., who helps run things for the Brooklyn National league club, expressed himself as favoring later opening for the major leagues.

Every year or so there is some talk of setting the dates back, but when a good spring comes along and shovels in the dollars the talk of setting the dates back, but when a setting dates back, talk usually is quickly dropped. Spring in this section this year, however, was so backward that the talk promises to take definite form. It is no fun for a baseball magnate to get a team in condition and then come north to the chilly blasts of unfavorable weather. It has been some time since a really favorable day appeared for the opening games.

"Nearly every year of late we have been getting wonderfully good baseball weather at the close of a season," said Ebbets, "and this is against unfavorable days in the spring. It would make no difference if we opened two weeks later and closed a bit later in the fall.
Schedules would work just the same.
It has been customary in late years to have the best baseball weather of a season along toward its close.

I believe we should take advantage of it.

"Of course, there are some springs when conditions are ideal for baseball. But they are uncertain. Autumn weather recently has been consistent. I believe it's best to take what we are sure of."

John K. Tener, president of the National league, however, holds a different view. He does not believe advancing the opening would have any effect on the season. "Bad weather," he declared, "is just as likely to show up late in May as in the middle of April, and a glance at our records will show this. However, I can't see that it would hurt us any to make the change, and, if our magnates want it, it's up to us to make the switch."

Soup.

Soup is one of the less effective foods. It is very filling. But it does not take hold like corned-beef-and-cabbage.

Like our music, our drama our opinions and our incompetents, soup is canned. They have built great palaces of delusion for it. There they coax it into the mixing wats, decoy it to gigantic caldrons and get it all stirred up with the idea that it's going to be eaten. Then they blight its hopes by pouring it into dark, gloomy cans and it sits on a shelf days, weeks, months, maybe years, till somebody calls for it.

No wonder soup gets despondent.

ARBOR DAY WAS OBSERVED

Proclamation of Governor Goodrich is Followed.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 20.—Arbor day was observed throughout the state today in accordance with the proclamation issued by Gov. Goodrich. Frank N. Wallace, state entomologist, today urged the planting of nut trees especially so that "In coming years we may have shade, profit and beauty from what is now a waste strip of ground."

"In this year of food shortage, this would be a valuable addition to our food supply and every school should have this matter up for consideration," said Mr. Wallace.

"If our roads would have been lined with nut trees twenty to thirty years ago Indiana could harvest more nuts each year than the citizens could consume."

J. G. Hovis Praises Tanlac as Great Sleep Restorer—He Feels Better.

Mishawaka, Ind., April 19.—J. G. Hovis, a retired railroad employee, who lives with his daughter at 210 East Marion street, this city, is telling all his friends of the great benefit he derived from the use of Tanlac. For twenty-six years Hovis was a section foreman and out in all kinds of weather. He says this about Tanlac.

"I was bothered with stomach trouble and rheumatism in my arms and limbs. My food never digested properly. The rheumatism made my arms and limbs ached constantly. At night I couldn't sleep and would roll and toss in bed."

"In the newspapers I read a statement from another railroad man whose case was similar to mine and then I concluded I would try Tanlac. The rheumatic pains have disappeared completely. I enjoy my meals now and can eat almost anything I desire. I sleep soundly and restfully throughout the night now."

"Tanlac certainly has benefited me and I want to recommend it to everyone."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, rheumatism, catarrhal complaint, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, nervousness and the like.

Tanlac is now being introduced and explained in Rushville at F. E. Wolcott's Drug Store; In Arlington at Mrs. L. T. Davis's; In Carthage at J. H. McCarthy; In Milroy at Barton & Sheppard's.—(Adv.)

This Car Revises All Standards Of Motor Car Value

THE purchase of an automobile is the purchase of certain elements of physical satisfaction and mental enjoyment, least of which is by no means pride of ownership. The measure in which your car gratifies your desire for these enjoyments, as compared with other cars, establishes its value in your eyes.

In the new Oldsmobile, Model 45, you are enabled to secure the fullest measure of physical satisfaction, as determined by smooth, effortless performance, and of pride of possession, as warranted by superior coachwork and utmost refinement of finish,—at a cost that establishes this car as a new standard of motor car value.

The car is built in four body styles at the following prices,—$1367 for the seven-passenger, and $1295 for the five-passenger, club roadster and convertible roadster models, f. o. b. Lansing.

The seven-passenger is now on display at our showroom. Call or write today for a demonstration.

Here's That Reo One-Rod Control

EASE OF OPERATION is one of the cardinal qualities of Reo the Fifth—"The Incomparable Four."

THAT QUALITY, perhaps more than any other, commends this car to women.

BUT THAT SAME quality—ease of operation—is responsible for many other things that only owners of Reo the Fifth cars fully appreciate.

FOR, NO MATTER how expert you may be in handling a car—in clutch control and gear shifting—nevertheless you do miss once in a while, you know.

AND THE DAMAGE to your pride and your nerves is only a small part of the real damage—that which has resulted from the clashing of gear teeth and shock to bearings and other parts will show up later in the repair shop and the maintenance bill.

THAT REO CONTROL—the original "one rod" control; the original "center control"—is the biggest money saver the Reo engineers have ever been able to offer Reo buyers.

THE VERY FACT that instead of two hand levers, there is only one in Reo the Fifth, is important—one hand on the wheel, the other on the control, gives you confidence and vastly simplifies the operation.

BUT THERE'S ANOTHER fact that is not so apparent on the surface; one that all engineers appreciate and most owners; but one the buyer does not always grasp beforehand.

THAT IS THE CO-RELATION of all the parts in that Reo clutch and transmission.

THE REO ENGINEERS have done all your gear shifting for you in designing Reo the Fifth. It is scarcely necessary for you to think—just move the single lever to the position indicated on the index plate and without a sound, the right pair of gears slip in place.

SILENCE MEANS absence of shock to the gears; absence of undue strain to shafts; absence of injury to bearings.

ALL THESE YOU GET in Reo the Fifth, "The Incomparable Four"—known the world over as "the simplest car to control."

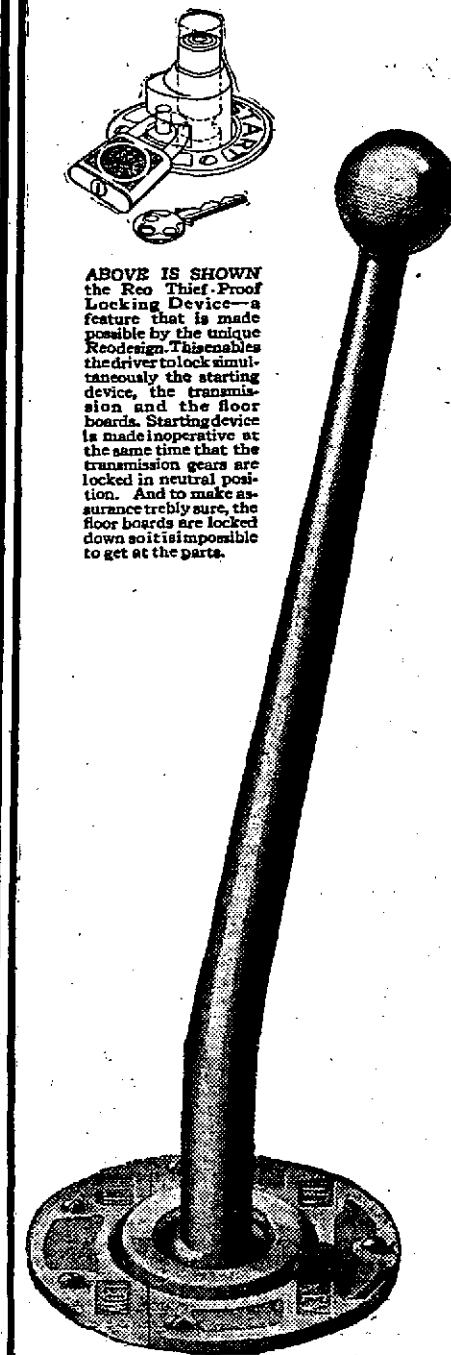

AND AS WE'VE shown, the same engineering that has produced that result that you can see, also produces another that you don't find out till later (unless you talk with an owner of Reo the Fifth), namely, that this is also the cheapest car of its size in the world to operate and maintain.

THE PRICE IS STILL $875 f. o. b. factory, Lansing, Michigan, despite the present higher cost of both labor and materials.

BUT THAT ISN'T to be taken as a promise that the price of this "Incomparable Four" will always remain at $875. It may be absolutely necessary to raise it.

BUT MEANTIME, if your order is in you will get your Reo the Fifth at the present price—and just now we can give you a fairly prompt delivery.

ABOVE IS SHOWN the Reo Thief-Proof Locking Device—a feature that is made possible by the unique Reo design. This device enables the driver to lock simultaneously the starting device, the transmission and the floor boards. Starting device is made inoperative at the same time that the transmission gears are locked in neutral position. And to make assurance doubly sure, the floor boards are locked down so it is impossible to get at the parts.

Renewed Testimony

No one in Rushville who suffers backache, headaches, or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this Rushville man's twice-told story. It is confirmed testimony that no Rushville resident can doubt.

Harrison Levi, 931 North Sexton street, Rushville, says: "I used to have to get up six or seven times each night on account of the too frequent passages of the kidney secretions. Often the passages were scanty and accompanied by pain. I also had severe backaches. Nothing ever did me any good until I got Doan's Kidney Pills, from Johnson's Drug Store. It didn't take them long to fix me up. The pain left and my kidneys became regular in action." (Statement given July 27, 1912.)
